Abstract: A short analysis of the Jerusalem Extraterrestrial Spaceship is presented.

With UFO's there are many hoaxes and fake computer graphics (CG) videos. The author is aware of this. The Jerusalem video does not look like a fake. Therefore it would be worth the author's time to give a short description of the craft involved.

For starters there are three videos. The first two videos came out which overlapped each other and was filmed at night. The third video turned out to be a poor fake done by a person residing in the U.S. The fourth video surfaced in which a recording of the same event took place much closer. The fourth (appearance) of the Jerusalem UFO will be analyzed as represented as the third actual video, not the hoaxed third one which can be ignored.

In the video there are two craft. One is a recon craft which is small and bright and shines with a very intense light. The other craft is hovering above the Temple Dome, and can be observed as being 4 individual red lights that blink. A description of the craft is provided below as the author decided to use a simple drawing program.

From this picture we can see that instead of actually landing the main craft, they decided to send in a little recon drone to survey the area. In the video we can also see the flash of someone having taken a picture of the craft, which caused the retreat of the recon craft. Or the flash could represent when the craft would be returning to the main ship, kind of like the beeping of a large truck backing up, as to say, "hey I'm going to move really fast back to the spot I came from". By really fast, it is intended to say this craft from the looks of it travels back to the main ship in excess of a bullet coming out of a rifle. The author was in the Marines and is familiar with tracer rounds out of machine guns.

The main ship can be seen to rotate as well as it leaves, as the lights take different configurations. This would imply the triangular shaped main craft is rotating. As well, it is very dark in this area so some type of surface is allowing the main craft to appear to be invisible (except for the main landing lights that are blinking red). Also, the author was in the Marines so is familiar with needing to only use red lights when navigating dark areas, this means whatever was in the main craft, they have been studying humans and understand that somehow we have vision in the regular light spectrum. This also signals that the craft was essentially in stealth mode.

A more comical implication is that the visiting people were playing games with humans. In that they choose a really religious spot to try and make it appear that there were visiting "Angels" to the Dome. This would imply that the visiting people are pranksters and were playing a joke on unsuspecting humans. Either that, or they simply were interested in why something was so brightly light, as to imply a landing zone for other species of sorts, so they decided to investigate. Many possibilities are present, but it is highly doubtful that this is human technology. It takes us 4 billion dollars a piece to assemble an aircraft carrier, but to make it invisible, have it have no sound, float and rotate 3000 feet above the ground, is clearly beyond our capacity as a species. Anybody who wants to challenge this conspiracy is thus invited to do so. These are extraterrestrials from another star system and they are here, SETI is not needed anymore. It is a shame the President of the United States will not admit this fact of reality.

Other people who have alternative interpretations of this video please feel free to publish them. We will not get any kind of real reporting of this matter from government entities because it is challenging to their status.

The complete honest truth of the matter is that they are just visiting and have no evil intent in as much as a person goes to the Amazon Jungle to observe waterfalls and river animals. It is clear as day they are more advanced than us, as their method of defense is of complete avoidance and stealth. I would imagine firing a weapon at the main craft would do nothing, the round would probably pass right through it. The Hollywood propaganda of human weapons being able to affect these people is completely false, in as much as a wooden spear being able to take out an Abrams battle tank. The facts are such, if they wanted us dead, we would already be dead.
