

I have noticed that the yellow orange galaxies seems too be the most common at 1-4 billion light years from Earth. Is this true? After examined 710 galaxies in Galaxy Explorer, I noticed the yellow orange galaxies are the most common 1-4 billion light years from Earth. That my hypothesis.
Thomas Scott Zolotor Free the souls.