Acknowledgment

Not only is the declassification of secret information, military and technological advancements to the public prohibited in *New World Order*¹, but also declassification of the secret history is a great problem for those who want to write a nonfiction and valuable book like this.

Here it is what you don't know! Where you love to be and what you love to learn! Your brain likes to learn something new, it is hungry to devour that kind of knowledge that is not like the ready-to-serve products that a mass marketing company would have you ingest! The Wall Street walnut, the wan and wine wandering walrus waltzing wants wanton war warble!

I remember that it was many months ago when I informed the U.S. President, I would like to write a book. I had written to him that the subject of my book would be relating to the latest U.S. Presidential Election but because of many accidents that have happened since sending these messages, and also because I received a vast variety of new information, only a very limited part of this book now is about the election.

I have been all around hell, all around the Globe. I have stayed in Russia; places so cold that your very bones inside of you shriek. Deep down inside of its underground city, where you ask yourself "How is it possible for satellites with their warheads to track me here?" I have traveled to the Philippines with its beautiful and tasty confectioneries, and its girls inside the Manila bars and clubs. And then the Middle East, years ago, in the dark and fearful deserts along the Esfahan-Tehran highways in Iran. I recall the sensation of that cold dusty air in my lungs. But as my thoughts drift back to those hours, I begin experiencing a different feeling in that hard and cold situation. The animal farm nearby, and me, on the run. It's about 2 AM and I'm in my car. Damn...it's so dark! From the side of the highway I hear something like a scream but I tell myself: no problem, it's only a nightmare, a hallucination caused by the environmental situation of the ecosystem of my current geographical location. My mother is praying for her son to come back home soon. But I left her alone. And here, inside my car, I have only a knife, and my secret documents here in my briefcase.

Right now February 15, 2014, I'm in Turkey. Today I have decided to write a brief memo about a few of my 12 years of cooperation with the White House and the Central Intelligence Agency and the many years of cooperation with Human Rights Watch (HRW) and the IFRC (the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies). A few political leaders of England and France, agents of NSA (The National Security Agency, which has forbidden me from submitting any secret information) and CIA agents and Mossad and Shin Bet (Shabak) and USSS (The United States Secret Service) and Microsoft and DOJ (The United States Department of Justice) have communicated with me, inquiring about what I have now started to write.

The companies Dell and Intel had some unidentified and covert communications with me. And for sure they and also the National Institutes of Health (NIH) have acted behind the scene (Dell communicated with me from many years ago, when I sent a fax to the Princeton University. Dell wasn't such nervous for sharing this book with people and so they preferred not to ask me about what I am writing now). I also had a contact from the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) approach me about what I am started to write now!

This work is one of my most important works, as one of the secret agents of the Central Intelligence Agency and as the honorary advisor (decision-maker) to President Barack Obama (see the footnote).²

For sure, to maintain security and safety we must keep international secret information confidential, so I don't have permission to leak very top-secret information that would not only threaten U.S. security but also would cause me to lose my own personal security and safety, possibly causing me to fall into the attack of some hidden hands. However, you will learn about lots of secret information through reading this book. You will learn more about some parts of my life and also some parts of President Obama's life. This book is for those people who perhaps have heard my name but they would like to gain more knowledge about me and also about what has happened recently in Iran, Israel, England, Turkey, France, and Russia. The impacts of the policy actions of these countries on the American's policy and the impacts of the American's policy actions on the policy and diplomatic demarches of these countries; this book is a limited but concise depiction of our private communications. In Chapter 1 (and also in Chapter 3) I begin by describing violations against humanity. In Chapter 2 I go on to describe some activities of a few enemies of the U.S. President a bit (also, I will describe to you about recent/modern medications, about when somebody gets infected by HIV, then what he must do to heal himself from the virus through using anti retro-viral drugs. I will also describe to you a most needed medical training for each member of a family, Cardiac & Pulmonary Rehabilitation (CPR)). In Chapter 3 you are going to learn more about secret history and secret technologies. You will see some secret and classified pictures of underground facilities and also you shall learn more about what happened to me.³ Chapter 4 is about espionage at most. Chapter 5 is about communications security and online (Internet) privacy. In addition, it contains some notes from President Barack Obama. Finally, Chapter 6 is about what will happen in the future, Russians advancements (Aeroflot aerospace technology, etc.) and not only it's about U.S. military and technological future plans but also international technological plans such as a permanent human colony on Mars and what you and your children are soon going to see in the future, many plans that you haven't seen or heard of elsewhere but of which, during the next few months some other authors may use inside their books for the public. There are some parts of the secret history that must remain untold forever because I haven't received enough and good organized support by the people who were living during the current century yet!

A few months ago while I was a UN Refugee in Turkey, I got sold and so I was attacked and sleep deprived (as one of the methods of torture) every night for a few weeks. One of the main causes of this kind of torture inflicted on me was simply because I had informed the White House: "I would like to write a book". Some people think one political leader of a country, alone, can maintain the ideal security of that country. Not only they are wrong, but every person who works for any political leader or any agency in a group, is vulnerable to attack by that group's enemies. They can sue them, pit them against each other, and destroy their relations. In reality, one could be targeted and attacked even if one doesn't have any direct complaint against these adversaries.

Some CIA agents of the Public Affairs of the Central Intelligence Agency, like: dear agent Shannon and my lovely friend agent Nienie Dare decided to write a foreword for this book, but because of the similarity between their foreword and the contents of my book, I decided not to include what they gave me about this book. That said, in their foreword they also described their love for me and they tried to say: "We caused lots of problems in your life. We are not that cold and you are aware of that. Here in the Public Affairs mistakes are melting down the planet of people who are not aware. You shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free. Readers, you must understand his dedication to convey lots of information to you, and know that he had his life threatened for completing this book."

The CIA told me⁴ that if I write a good book so they (probably) would submit my name in the CIA World Fact Book 2035. It's interesting and I feel that I should tell you, that as an intelligence cooperater even though me or my friends are under attack (or harassment, while I hadn't any satellite support, I got annoyed by them, etc. which is not unclassifiable to the people of the current decades) everyday it's like a habit for many private and governmental companies with whom I had communication before, that they attack the other one, but I, personally, rarely attack the opponents' diplomacy. Meanwhile I have everyday communication with some security agencies and they track me and they look inside my private life, but I personally think I am still that teenaged student, who must respect the boundaries of what is part of public life and public culture.

Notes

1. The New World Order (NWO): The term New world order was first used inside the Bahá'í literature, the sacred texts of the Bahá'í Faith. Herbert George "H. G." Wells expressed the idea that a 'new world order' should be formed to unite the nations of the world in order to bring peace, inside his book The New World Order. The most widely discussed application of the phrase of recent times came at the end of the Cold War. Prime Minister Rajiv Gandhi used the term in reference to the commitments made by the USSR through the Declaration of Delhi of two years previous. Presidents George H. W. Bush and Mikhail Gorbachev used the term to try to define the nature of the post-Cold War era, and the spirit of great power cooperation that they hoped might materialize. Dr. Henry A. Kissinger one of the most important and significant public figures of American diplomacy, recipient of the Nobel Peace Prize, served as National Security Advisor, and as Secretary of State, wrote about the New world order. Also the Latin phrase "novus ordo seclorum" (below the Eye of Providence), appearing on the reverse side of the Great Seal since 1782 and on the back of the U.S. one-dollar bill since 1935, translates to "New Order of the Ages" and alludes to the beginning of an era where the United States of America is an independent nation-state; conspiracy theorists claim this is an allusion to the "New World Order". On the other hand, amongst the entire descriptions, definition of the Eye of Providence is abstractive. Since the physical structure of the Egyptian pyramids, and also the physical structure of the tombs of a few early prophets, are made up alike the triangular symbol of the Eye of Providence (the Eye of Providence from its early ancestor the Bavarian Illuminati), usage of the term "New World Order" is literary valuable and beautiful for ambiguity about its real definition at most aside of this conspiracy that whether or not a new order is getting generalized (universalized) around the Globe.

2. On March 20, 2014 during a message to the U.S. President, I leaked some information to him, to stop some threats, then I temporary resigned. I informed them, it's because the U.S. did nothing for helping me! At the moment the weather there (in Turkey) was very cold!

3. When I was a high school student, I began writing some articles in an encyclopedia for many years, which caused some struggles but also bad problems for me, while it affected following accidents but I prefer to forget them. Additionally I know certainly if I did some artistic works during U.S. covert operations or during those years that I was a bit younger and I was brainwashed, it wont causes someone to sue me. Afterwards I was admired to be a lieutenant. If I got experimented by everywhere, or if I experienced something new everywhere I was, now I prefer not to disturb my mind with.

When I received these forewords I had decided to keep the name of this book "Me and friend President Obama" but when I wrote some edits then I personally decided to change the name of the book to "Kings' dirty operation: Concise memos of my cooperation with the CIA and Illuminati's hell" however it's the will of the U.S. President that we must help the investigative people to gain access to the latest information. The title of the book must be attractive but we cannot decide about the accidents through looking at the title only. He insisted, what happened around the Globe and also to you by some hidden hands, must be 'given away' to people for free, and it would deliver peace. People shall mentally absorb its literary contents after they read the full work, but the book's title.

President Barack Obama Foreword

When you succeed, America succeeded

I love to dedicate my best wishes for my friend Mr. Ghasemi who his struggle was for peace and humanity, conceived in freedom and liberty. This nation and the freedom we cherish can, and shall, prevail.

I remember one day you wrote for me “Dear truly winner of the Nobel Peace Prize...”. Here in America, we believe in actions and we like to stop people from acting against logic when their mental system is depressed. When they think about something, we imagine for sure they will do that, so we make a plan to do something about them before they do something wrong, but a crying eye of a child can ruin these actions and plans! I recommend you read this book to find out how!

I remember you could not complete your university in Iran for it was necessary for you to get out of there quickly because some of the political complaints. There is no difference whether “am I black, white or in between”. There is no difference whether “are you from Iran or from Africa”. I’m not black, I’m not white, and so what am I?! Inside the university you studied the paradox of Bertrand Russell. While the other students were only reading about the paradox itself, and they were merely reading about his other works, but you studied what he did to stand against nuclear warfare!

The Forewords of Two U.S. Army Members Who Are Imprisoned in Iran

(Descriptions from the author):

There are two members of US-Army who were arrested by militias and agents of the regime, Mr. Robert (Bob) Levinson and the other one, Mr. Amir Mirza Hekmati. They hadn't an opportunity to see my book. They couldn't meet me personally. But with difficulty we were able to make a contact via a short satellite communication with each other before. It was believed that there was little chance for Amir to be returned to his family in America alive. We hope, the militias set Bob free (he doesn't fear of death and he bravely controls his stress and he keeps his mental state healthy). Amir doesn't have a good emotional situation, and he is imprisoned in Tehran, Iran.

Few days ago I received news regarding that he (Amir) finally will be released, and will be able to come back to his family in America, also. He has asked me that I inform people "I will obey whatever they ask me to do and also there is no guaranty that they will release me from the jail." However, I have never met them before, personally!

Robert Foreword¹:

As others were getting closer to arrest me in the hotel, lately I had a contact from America; I didn't understand what they meant. I could not understand that they mean I will get arrested. For me and Amir there is a little chance to see our family again, now tell me, what have you done to help me? I don't have a good situation here.

I couldn't read this book yet, but reading this book is recommended.

Amir Foreword:

I didn't receive enough support. My interview with the Iranian governmental-national TV (IRIB), about the support that once I was receiving from the west, made my situation worsen. I recommend you read this book.

1. Communicated through a live, short, and (nowadays) good familiar communication method—The structures of the sentences are not exactly alike what could have been written by them, nor formally they sent it to me (it was over a short communication).

IFRC Foreword (Descriptions from the author):

It was a few days ago that I wrote an email message to the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies. I asked them to give me a hand-written foreword, and then send it to me over email. I wrote, I'm afraid I'm unclear about what you (the refri, etc.) mean, it's difficult to understand to submit that in this book, so send the texts to my email address. But I didn't receive any answer. This is what they told me, through a secret communication method, to submit in my book:

This book is endorsed.

The author was a beginner medic¹. Cyrus, we die but from the ruins we hail you!

We have been corresponding with the author through the Internet since he was very young. During the time of his torture and harassment, he wrote to me a message in which he shared some information about what he claimed that he knew about the Michael Jackson death tragedy, HAARP (High Frequency Active Auroral Research Program), HIV (Aids) widespread, the relations of the United Nations members of the Security Council with the New World Order, etc. I ask people why didn't you let him describe more, why didn't you let him help you?!

Nowadays lots of satellites surround the Earth, they are sending trash into space, why don't we send nuclear waste to the sun?! When the author was only a child he was reading about mathematics and space debris, through using the Internet in Iran, one of the developing countries in the Middle East!

Introduction

Dedication by Bill Gates : A Compelling and inspiring book. Now tell me, if the one who iron crossed the hands and roots of a long walk home of the Secret Service, shall the Prussians have stolen some parts of [the Greeks code] to be published ? Espionage means less, for those who are not clever or trained. But it's a beauty dirty play; scream like the scream of a pregnant mother shall Waterbergs fall micro monitor for who is clever and who is a professional hunted medic like you. The true story of a young man who loves the light and the peace, who calls many Americans for support. Based on hope, as you solve one problem, another problem presents itself.

ΣΩ Bill Gates

My life is full of espionage and political memories because when I started my political activities and when I started to fight for freedom of people, I was only fourteen, a teenage boy. In those days I was listening to the news by radio, and I was listening to some music and songs which western governments were broadcasting to the public in the Middle East against dictatorial regimes. But I gained little knowledge about the policy of these kinds of regimes. I had not skimmed the texts of the famous general “Sun Tzu”¹. I had not read some books such as *Intelligence Analysis*², The Road to Serfdom³, etc. I was a young boy who was not even investigative like the journalisms at first, but a naughty American patriot who liked to tie a headband with American eagle, which was painted on the U.S. flag, casually on his forehead to satisfy his passion to our American Dream; then I became more clever naughty and an investigative university student, which caused that I got tortured extremely hard. They sent EMP (electrical shock) on my testes⁴, I got radiation on my chest and I got several kinds of other secret harmful radiations on my neck and my backbone and my brain.⁵ But people are not aware of that the United States has cooperation with regimes who act against humanity that caused some vulnerabilities for U.S. freedom and security. Because the authority of them is not like the direct access of ours to these kinds of technologies yet so money works and similar issues strengthen their power also.

In addition to what you read at the first paragraph of this introduction, my life is full of espionage and political memos but I shall write a book which a variety of audience enjoy to read; a heavy book can dull your brain. I was born and I grew up in Iran, I traveled to Philippines and Russia, and then I became an asylum seeker (UN refugee) in Turkey. I could write a fiction book⁶, but I decided to write a nonfiction book and describe some of the realities to researchers. People who like to learn more about parts of my life and the president Obama's life, for those who heard my name but they like to gain more knowledge about me and also about what happened recently in Iran, Israel, England, Turkey, France, Russia. And additionally the impacts of their policy actions on Americans' policy and the impacts of Americans' policy actions on their policy and diplomatic demarches; a limited but a concise part of some private communications and what we did behind the closed doors to change the course of the world.

When I was out of the money and I was hungry and my muscles were shaking during night times because of the cold weather, I wrote to many organizations and also to many governmental agencies "when I ask for a job, people laugh at me." But in these days the U.S. President, Barack Obama, gave me the honor! The Office of Public Affairs (through a secret and ciphered conversation) had approved me as an E-5 secret agent (Sergeant) of the U.S. Marine Corps to continue my cooperation (which I started many years ago) with them (with the CIA) but it (the cooperation) was for free. Suddenly (a few months later) they approved me as an O-1 and then an O-2 secret agent (First-Lieutenant U.S. Marine Corps). It was exactly when the other ones decided to kill me for what I did before! Many months passed and I completed writing this book but I was homeless still (for I left the home of my parents), my citizenship is delaying yet and there is a month that I could not take a shower! And if the big-brother took care of me not to let someone torture me using the classified methods of exposure, so I could have a fine situation without stress and free of fear of the torture! The big brother is an idiom which at first George Orwell used in his book "1984"⁷ to describe top-ranked intelligence commanders and agents who work behind the scenes of an operation.

My birth place is somewhere in the Middle East. There is not such a wise government available for the people who are living there. Terrorists are threatening them. Since the woman gave birth to her children, because the parents didn't learn how to live, so they and their children can't live a happy life. Since they are young until the death or until they become so weak and old, some of this families work hard to gain money. They receive the money then the family waste the money and it continues in a loop cycle, so they never reach the wealth. Governmental pressure on people to act on Islam causes a negative effect on the teens' sexual passion to the opposite sex, not only it causes violation against women but even against men. The mullah is so devoted not to let anybody see his wife's hairs! They go to mosque and they tell the audience that when you see men talk to stranger women or when any parts of their bodies contact the other race, at first you warn them, then you become angry with them so it will cause that they stop it, but if they continued, you must attack them. And if you don't do it, then after the death God would put you in hell. The people who are living in the Middle East have a long history, beautiful and old buildings that wise architectures designed. When the children are growing up, the situation of these 3rd world countries makes violated persons from the children. He is not only threatening by the dictatorial regime, but also by the other countries that are not aware of the culture of the citizen, but inside the breaking news that we broadcast to public in America and inside the breaking news that the other countries around the Globe broadcast to people, no one told that some of this countries, even have access to satellite systems (above their land, and above the neighbor countries of their area. But today, when I am typing these words, it's 2014, even whom don't have direct access to these facilities, can pay for this providable service). They gained access to Weapons of Mass Destruction (WMDs) and nuclear technology.

Dear Peiman Ghasemi;

U.S. Embassy in Ankara is not a designated post for refugee case processing; the Embassy is not authorized to consider a refugee case. In Turkey, The United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR) has responsibility for assistance to and protection of refugees. As far as we understand you have approached the UNHCR and have thus far been unsuccessful in completing the process. As our office is not involved in this process we are not made aware of the reasons of approvals or denials. You may make a formal appeal for reconsideration to the UNHCR office, and made clear the events and circumstances which resulted in your departure from Iran. If you need any further information about the consideration on your case you should contact the UNHCR office in Ankara.

I hope this information will be helpful to you.

Sincerely,

Dears

Because of some delays what happened about the appointment for my citizenship approval today, I decided to inform the related international organisations and the police about the current complaints when today the t/urkish police told me that they rejected my refugee case and they stopped its prossiger, but I decided to inform you one more time about that regarding to the laws of Iranian regime about the administrative detentions for their own citizens and also regarding to the satellites SS [REDACTED]-WMDs, what they use for the national security reasons on the people with no citizenship. Regarding to the documents what I attached to this email about many years of cooperation with US Intelligence what it's documents are registered in my document files. I ask you to inform me about my citizenship status! You know even working for one of the private (non-governmental) agencies of America causes that they arrest me in Iran! I don't have a good situation, as much as the weather was hot I've had a headache today in Turkey! I can't answer the suburb police (with their public answering system what they made for crowd here) about continuing my temporary citizenship status and I don't like to come back to Ira/n from Tur/key and I cause a leakage of the classified information also!

Best Wishes,
Peiman Ghasemi

This email is UNCLASSIFIED.

Unclassified answer of the U.S. Embassy (However there were minor mistakes in the second part where there were the questions, but not the embassy. In addition the Iranian technologies are not so advanced⁸, however because of respecting to the honors which I received later so it's not necessary that I describe my struggles which I was dealing with, while I was not an U.S. cooperater yet and I was living inside an Islamic country so that regarding to the military laws their people are our threats). You see that the contents of the message to the U.S. Embassy approved to be unclassified for public by the embassy personnel and by me also.

Even if you read the current newspapers or search by the Internet, you already going to find out, for example in Iran, scientists in governmental research centers and the scientists of nuclear facilities are enriching Uranium. Like what we know, they have not made a nuclear bomb or lots of nuclear bombs yet but the percentage of their enriched uranium is more than what they declassified to public.⁹

Even if it causes that anybody annoy me, but like what I wrote to the CIA few days ago, I'm responsible now to inform agents and people who read this book, about: our nation's intelligence gathering power would get destroyed by doing racial activities.

If you ask from the members of the army or if you talk with them or if you search about what they tweet (in twitter) or if you search about accounts of the members of the US-Army in twitter then you would find out that many members of the US-Army are PTSDs (Post-Traumatic Stress Disordered) but lots of them are young agents. The civil people have not seen (except of the Vietnam War, the symbol of a catastrophic nightmare in history for armies; Afghanistan and Iraq, the recent examples but not the only examples) every agents, human rights defendants or spies who work outside the United States, not only in the Middle East but everywhere around the Globe, they don't have a good and secure and healthy and wealthy situation, under the storm of heavy communications, with a variety of roles and responsibilities which they must perform. While it's somehow impossible for America to gain the position and technological speed that it reached after the Second World War, and our position and technological speed and specially our public face and our public figure that we gained after the Cold War until the eleventh of the September of two thousand and one, but if I decide to describe lots of our failures, so am I really respected to The Audacity of Hope, and The Change We Can Believe In? After the problems that happened to me, I ask myself, am I a useless piece in the Glob for the United States after that we did many unbelievable works, or does the United States have any kind of plan for what would happen about me? If they don't increase their supports and if they stay silent so would the future generations understand some of the realities what I didn't discuss a lot about them? Does the United States ignore those who work for the government for lots of years, and then does the United States drift them away or not? (I haven't received my salary yet! Working with the CIA for free makes me to remember the U.S. Dirty War and U.S. investigations for WMDs outside our nation which will remain classified for a long while, alluding to the war that Mr. Scahill not completely unbiased, beside of many other mindsets and many other stories not exactly related to the Dirty Wars from a diplomatic aspect of view, mentioned in his works¹⁰) Years later we going to find out an answer about this question. Inside the next chapters you will read about some kind of classified methods of torture by exposure, now just imagine that the British Broadcasting Corporation had targeted me (in Iran) when I was a teenager, but why only a few weeks before of writing this book, again, and for the second time (in Turkey), the BBC tortured me using this kind of classified methods of torture by exposure! Look at the email message of the U.S. Embassy again, when I was in Iran, the Iranian Intelligence Service asked me to go there to answer their questions once, now while I have some kind of problems about my visa proposals so receiving these honorary medals before that I start writing this book and then publication of this book all around the Globe, if I travel back to Iran, the country that sets an initial trial on the U.S. Cooperators, wont causes that they kill me? There are some challenges that I am dealing with them, we must increase our gathered intelligence for the agency, I need to continue my educations, and we need to change and improve and enhance our diplomacy!

We are always responsible for maintaining balance and delivering hope to our people.

7. Big Brother is a fictional character in George Orwell's novel Nineteen Eighty-Four. He is the enigmatic dictator of Oceania, a totalitarian state wherein the ruling Party wields total power "for its own sake" over the inhabitants. In the society that Orwell describes, every citizen is under constant surveillance by the authorities, mainly by telescreens. The people are constantly reminded of this by the phrase "Big Brother is watching you", the maxim ubiquitous on display. Since the publication of Nineteen Eighty-Four, the term "Big Brother" has entered the lexicon as a synonym for abuse of government power, particularly in respect to civil liberties, often specifically related to mass surveillance.

To May 2010, environmental samples confirmed that both enrichment plants were operating as declared, FEP producing less than 5.0% enrichment. However, in February 2010 about 1950 kg of low-enriched uranium from FEP was taken to PFEP.

In June 2010 the AEOI announced that it planned to build four new research reactors for production of medical isotopes, including a 20 MW one to replace TRR when its operational life finishes in 15 years. This plan would justify production of more 20%-enriched uranium at Natanz, which gives rise to international concern.

Chapter 1

This is what the LORD says to his anointed, to Cyrus, whose right hand I take hold of to subdue nations before him and to strip kings of their armor, to open doors before him so that gates will not be shut: I will go before you and will level the mountains; I will break down gates of bronze and cut through bars of iron. I will give you hidden treasures, riches stored in secret places, so that you may know that I am the LORD, the God of Israel, who summons you by name__Isaiah 45 (Holy Bible)

It's about the beginning of the latest century. Inside a calm city, near a warm bed there's a personal computer near the backdoor on the first floor of a creaky house, a teenage boy is inside. He has heard much gossip about the daily challenges and the everyday complaints which people are confronted by and dealing with. Those people who are the heart, the soul, and the backbone of our society, auctioning their own homes; and their suspicious activities are under supervision in their everyday lives! Just imagine a group of rebels have dropped a woman inside a big hole and they are throwing stones at her head, stones tear the skin of her head and blood covers her face. Before one of the great disasters happens in another country, a group of people who have authority to observe, those whose work we call 'social engineering', inside the *bubble*¹, inside top-secret facilities are looking into some jets; the jet pilots keep flying and they crash the jets into a great building! Have you ever thought about why these impressive disasters affect our everyday life, and it may cause so many negative effects, deep in our souls! If someone told you that more than 12 professors participated in some research which the research later proved that in another study of PEP involving 400 cases of possible sexual exposure to HIV, not one person became infected! What you would hear from me is nothing strange nor is the Trojan Horse of Ancient Greece inside the scene, only some easy to understand words, for people are good enough to give you some background, and keep the audience passionate to follow these very secret recent accidents in history. At the beginning of the chapter I told you about the one who is inside of a house. As my thoughts drift back to those years, he was watching violations against humanity and against women. He was only a teenager. Behind the desk of his computer, through using the Internet, he was skimming some websites; he watched a few (rare) video clips about stoning² women and he watched a few video clips about cutting parts of people's body. They did it with other ones because of what those people's society had named 'sin'.

That boy behind the personal computer is me today. About twelve years ago I had read some texts about how the government had blinded some of their citizens (by cutting the citizens' eyes out of their skulls) at the beginning of the Iranian Islamic Revolution in 1979³ which made me very depressed and nervous. When I contacted the White House and the Central Intelligence Agency, even I couldn't have imagined the day when the United States President will accept me as one of his authorized decision-makers for himself (only as a free political advisor to him). I could not imagine, that teenage boy, who once upon a time was living near his family members and whose mother used to tell him not to stay out too late at night, will be accepted by the public affairs of the Central Intelligence Agency as one of their agents (marine lieutenant), and I could not imagine that I was supporting U.S. for charity while I was not fine. By increasing your wisdom and keeping up yourself by hard work, you can achieve a good job and make good money. If you believe you can, you probably can. If you would, you could!

THE SEPTEMBER 11 ATTACKS

It was so important for Mr. Obama that here I would add a few words, those words which caused that I make a reconsideration about the selection of my own notes at the beginning of the book! It's so important for him that I note you: "The September 11 attacks are a great disaster in U.S. history and for him also! Its causes, such a conspiracy theory, remain untold for a long time. The U.S. government is made up of many governmental and non-governmental/private organizations. Modern radars are great technological achievements. The personnel of the Pentagon⁴ might stay inside their offices but a few of them were not inside of their offices during the day of the disaster, when an airplane was flying to crash itself into one of the sides of the World Trade Center and the Pentagon building also! Some members of the world trade center could have some kind of underground connections even with a few congressmen and a few militias! But there are lots of similar speeches about these kinds of gossip! The answer is so obvious for me, it's because of there are our enemies who are threatening us! Some terrorists were talking with each other about the attack plan." That was the words of Barack Obama a political leader who truly won the Nobel Peace Prize!⁵ The attacks consisted of suicide attacks used to target symbolic U.S. landmarks. Four passenger airliners were hijacked by 19 al-Qaeda terrorists to be flown into buildings. The United States responded to the attacks by launching the War on Terror and invading Afghanistan to depose the Taliban, which had harbored al-Qaeda. The planet is full of violations instead of peace, people must love to learn something new, they must like to feel other mankind's emotions, but unfortunately in our real world when somebody dies or when he is under torture or when he is imprisoned, then for a few minutes they are sad about this human, at most, but they don't help him.

THE 99%

The people of the Middle East were angry for waiting inside of the long rows of a dairy program subsidy such as the governmental milk subsidies, chicken white meat subsidies and meals subsidies, and in America, the 99% (It's also the slogan of the Occupy Wall Street movement "We are the 99%", OWS that emphasized and began with two slogans by Adbusters "Are you ready for a Tahrir moment?" and "What is our one demand?" refers to income inequality and wealth distribution in the U.S. between the wealthiest 1% and the rest of the population. It was a protest movement that began on September 17, 2011, in Zuccotti Park, located in New York City's Wall Street financial district, receiving global attention and spawning the Occupy movement against social and economic inequality worldwide), those people (the 99%) are auctioning their own homes! During presidential election moments, hundreds of millions of dollars are being spent in pursuit of being anointed the "winning" candidate. In the end, there will be no "winner" for the American people! If it was me and my friend President Obama inside of the White House⁶ in those days then we wouldn't let the disaster happens! It's so strange that while some agents of the Pentagon are not inside their office, terrorists reach themselves to the Pentagon. The Pentagon, a military building which has lots of defensive advancements (such as modern missiles), so terrorisms cause these accidents, if not then the remaining crowds of officials (and agents) could protect their own military complex, he said they (agents) were responsible to maintain a reasonable level of aerospace security above our lands! So I obeyed what dear president mentioned that he likes to add and mention here. Nonetheless until you finish the final pages you know nothing about so important works which we did all around the Globe.

SECRET SURVEILLANCE DEVICES AND BIG-BROTHER

It was mentioned, following to that day when I started my political activities (and also my cooperation with civil and human rights organizations) that many years passed now, a few months ago, once when the President saw that I mentioned,⁷ It would be so beautiful if there weren't any hidden jail around the Globe. The world would be so beautiful if there weren't any secret surveillance device or torturing device available for bothering political activists and investigative journalisms, and especially no one would bother them through some methods of torture (by exposure, etc.). Like what civil people could see in a movie, police would exactly act on the law, it made him happy. And he mentioned that while he studied the law inside of the university but my words impressed him. Some people who have not confronted with the complaints that we were threatened by them, after watching some documentaries and movies, they think of all the secret agents or of all who work for the government have tough and radical emotions or they are doing very radical activities, but here I must note that there is difference between these agents. If I tell you (because of the difference between the amount of violated activities what some radical agents are doing all around the Globe, inside or outside of our country), so for example sometimes when the U.S. President is in the White House with his family, the big-brother⁸ looks at them inside of (some parts of) their house and they listen to them. While for sure people don't like somebody do a same thing with their own family but some people would look at this fact and think about this fact as a fancy and as an interesting subject, and even if we ask them "it is bad, isn't it?", some of them may answer: "Sometimes these kinds of activities are necessary". At the beginning of the chapter I mentioned that the CIA accepted me as one of their agents like what they told and informed me exactly, but it's better that now I say I'd accepted as a nominated one for receiving the Medal of Honor, because of while it's not a long time passed since they accepted that I receive the medal and while I'm dealing with the current complaints and issues for 'receiving salaries' and the other issues so 'a cooperator' is (literary) a better choice of words, while I was one of the main pieces of the game for the agency. I was a medic. During bad situations while the weather was so cold (as an asylum seeker, one of the immigrants) I slept on the streets and I used normal plastics to make a shelter for myself (in Turkey). I know lots of top secrets but my mouth is shut nowadays. I was under radiation to be tortured. I can use locked airport's touch screen computers instead of my personal laptop, to gain free access to the Internet, during emergency situations. Computers like me!

TIMES OF BEING UNDER TORTURE FOR ME AND EFFECTS OF SOCIAL MEDIA FOR PUBLIC AWARENESS

I got tortured by EMP (electrical shock) and also through sending radiation to my chest and my neck and my backbone and my brain but in those days not one person heard my name on the news channels, and no one asked governments to help me; I didn't know how to use some kind of tricks of several websites (such as FACEBOOK and TWITTER and the other forms of mass-media) for broadcasting to public. It's so easy for people nowadays to send a request to one of the popular Facebook groups for joining it and then they post lots of information there. Some of the groups that people join may have only a few hundred members, but there are millions of people who are reading the posts of some of the other groups. They make an User ID inside of a web forum and then they share their opinions with lots of the other members of the group. They search inside of the Google website about the On-line petition sites and then they make it, and then they share this petition with lots of their (either real, or cyber and virtual) friends to gain political support! The brain of the layman can only imply a limited amount of their knowledge in their everyday life, for example people make a petition but it's uncommon for people to conceptualize this understanding in application that they can also share it then inside a web forum, or they can share it then inside a Facebook group; millions of peoples read these contents so they would gain more supporters! Through using some kind of websites (like CARE2) they can gain lots of signatures for their own petitions and through using some kind of other websites (like CAUSES) except of making a petition they can support the other members politically also!

Today when I am writing this book, lots of famous and genius people like agents of the Pentagon and members of U.S. Army⁹, Israeli news and military¹⁰, and lots of magazines and journalists and Medias¹¹ from many countries around the Globe, etc., are following my twitter account¹² and they are reading what I write there.

In Iran I had not access to wireless Internet (Wi-Fi); I was connected to the Internet through using a dial-up modem! I had a short sleep behind the desk of my computer usually, until downloading one small program gets done! DARPA (Defense Advanced Research Project Agency of the United States) was the main developer of its networks (Internet) idea, many years ago. Most of the times for me, that passed in Iran, Heydar Moslehi was the prime minister of MISIRI (Iranian Intelligence Service) when because of the amounts of the mental tortures (because of contacting the CIA and White House) for a few years, I became sick mentally; later I wrote to the White House: "If you don't put me out of Iran, probably during the next few days I'm going to a psychological hospital to receive medical cares." President impressed, then I think it was one of the scientists in DARPA, who I phoned him a short time before I sent this email message to the White House, the scientist who contacted me and told: "D o n ' t g o t o H o u s e p i t a l l !" But now I am a real political activist and I work for the White House and the Central Intelligence Agency.

DERANGEMENT OF IDEOLOGIES THREATS THE U.S. INTELLIGENCE

The most important things which are threatening the U.S. intelligence gathering power are derangement of the ideologies and also the agents with biased opinions; some American agents are doing covert-operations to cover their cooperators activities more than what it is necessary (even some times while the army officials are aware of what is happening around but a little they might like to bother the other ones); the other agents are not aware of what they are doing; doing violated activities causes a shame on our country. While Israeli intelligence agencies are up to date and act for the current situation and also while the British intelligence agencies prefers not to do radical activities, and when they act on intelligence and when they analysis information they open their own eyes wide (there is no difference about the country which they are dealing with, also there is no difference about the peoples who they are cooperating with; no difference about the religion of the other people of the area, whom the agent is cooperating with them nor any difference about the culture of the people of that area); some American agents are doing some kind of covert-operations to cover their cooperators activities a lot, which may cause that out of the U.S. the other ones don't kill the cooperator, but then sometimes the other American agents even attack the U.S. cooperators and it continues in a loop cycle.

INTELLIGENCE CYCLE

The traditional Intelligence cycle is the fundamental cycle of intelligence processing in a civilian or military intelligence agency or in law enforcement as a closed path consisting of repeating nodes. The stages of the intelligence cycle include the issuance of requirements by decision makers, collection, processing, analysis, and publication of intelligence. The circuit is completed when decision makers provide feedback and revised requirements. The intelligence cycle is also called the Intelligence Process by the U.S. Department of Defense (DoD) and the uniformed services.

INTELLIGENCE CYCLE (TARGET-CENTRIC APPROACH)

The target-centric approach to intelligence describes a method of intelligence analysis¹³ to offer an alternative methodology to the traditional intelligence cycle. Its goal is to redefine the intelligence process in such a way that all of the parts of the intelligence cycle come together as a network. It is a collaborative process where collectors, analysts and customers are integral, and information does not always flow linearly.

Target-Centric View of the Intelligence Process

Tough actions are such a habit for the United States National Security Agency (NSA) but there is no difference about what is the problem, nevertheless in comparison with the other intelligence agencies in America or outside America relatively they can provide a good security and privacy about the information which the agents are transferring or what they already transferred to them. While it's not such a very important threat for the NSA not to acts so up-to-date and dynamic, because of U.S. internal complaints are their usual complaints but Defense Intelligence Agency (DIA) is more dynamic (but cold and unemotional, also) about decision making (in comparison with some other agencies) but the NSA respects to privacy and independence a bit more.

END OF THE SECOND WORLD WAR, SPACE AGE, THE COLD WAR, AND APOLLO

The necessity of reaching a very powerful weapon was completely sensible in America after the Second World War when inside of the bunker Adolf Hitler and his newly married wife Eva Braun (who married him inside the bunker, in Berlin, last night) committed suicide. Hitler shot himself in the head while he had just swallowed a cyanide pill also, three months later two nuclear bombs (the Little Boy bomb on Hiroshima on August 6, 1945; the Fat Man bomb on Nagasaki on August 9, 1945) targeted Japanese cities. Some scientists were thinking about making several kinds of portable nuclear bombs. Some scientists were thinking about systems of particle oscillation, electromagnetics, and electromagnetic resonances to cause an authority for mankind over a variety of natural destructive disasters of the Earth. And some scientists were thinking about making a global surveillance/harassment system. It was crucial for the United States that it gains access to some technologies for enhancing its observation and supervision power. In 1946 the UKUSA Security Agreement officially enacted. In 1957 the first artificial satellite was sent to space. To give a notion to the next generations, the following years were the years of weaponization of space and the years of secret invisible warfare which we are dealing with its effects on the Earth today. Even inside the eastern parts of the Globe, the needs of the United States for making some satellite control stations and space research centers were obvious. Pine Gap is one of these facilities that the United States made in Australia many years ago, in addition to Goonhilly Satellite Earth Station (and its related facilities of Morwenstow, UK) that are the oldest secret stations to reach this goal. It's clear for people that in about 1960 and 1970 militarization of space was happening (especially in 1964, 1965, 1968, 1969), however in about 1975 to 1993 the most important changes (in addition to communicative technological achievements, which Germans had experienced several wire forms of them in early 20th century, now in these dates (latest years of the 20th century) especially towards forming and exciting electromagnetic resonances in the ionosphere, too) in the history of the weaponization of space happened.

Apollo–Soyuz, Issue of 1975; Bureau of Engraving and Printing - U.S. Post Office

In 1983 Ronald Reagan proposed the Strategic Defense Initiative (following to the fundamental roles of John F. Kennedy), in 1993 with an industrialized progress of such systems, and with an increment about these space-auroral systems communication antennas (so that it provides a better worldwide mass coverage, environmental-altering power), both technologies were propagated around the Globe for the governments and (the satellite service, from 1-3 earlier decades also for) financial enterprises when the Cold War came to an end. The brain of every human under some kind of torturing methods has a specific reaction, if we decide to discuss basically and by an easy to understand method for the people who haven't read anything about psychology, here, so I can describe to you the rewards and punishments/penalties systems that are some kind of psychological systems that can keep a human passionate to do something what you want him to do. Even you can use these systems to keep a fighter under control. In these Dirty, Black Operations, people would get brain-washed, mentally punished and rewarded and trained. Without some foreign secret forces, each countries possessions are vulnerable to security threats.

PEOPLE IN A STADIUM

When I was inside the school, I was skimming some books and papers. I was a teenage student in Iran. I saw an interesting term in a book that they had written for public school students, that: "There are a few types of people on the planet. Your lifetime is like a football game, and all humans are inside a stadium. Some people prefer not to play the game; they don't like the pleasure of playing the game. Some others would play: Some of them lose, the others win!" I remember when I was so young inside the high school I didn't receive any good rank in math. It even caused that I didn't study pure science and I continued my education about computer digital graphical design.

COMPUTERS & OS

I was trying to learn more about the software of the computers and also about the computer programing languages, but inside of our country the learning methods were so easy and basic, and it was not such an advanced learning method (whether CD, DVD, book, or by the Internet) available for me to buy it and then use it to increase my knowledge about computer programs. I decided to do something, I thought that inside of the amazing Microsoft Windows operating system many hardware drivers are identifiable and the operating system installs them automatically by a plug&play method and also I could install and I could use lots of software there. I bought a package of the Visual Studio programing languages but I had some kind of problems to learn it professionally. Through using Linux I could have access to more program templates; I could open the programs inside of its internal programing languages software and read them line by line. I could learn more about how an OS (an Operating System) works. An operating system is system software that manages computer hardware and software resources and provides common services for computer programs. For hardware functions such as input and output and memory allocation, the operating system acts as an intermediary between programs and the computer hardware, although the application code is usually executed directly by the hardware and frequently makes system calls to an OS function or is interrupted by it. I could open the Linux kernel by using C and C++ programming languages and I could search inside it. I was doing a same thing about the internal applications of Linux also. I liked to make a same program in Windows me myself. Windows is a classic and it is a great operating system including a perfect graphical system.

MY MATH AFFAIRS

I stopped studying pure science and I continued my education about computer graphical design but my communications with the U.S. President and the Central Intelligence Agency and Human Rights Watch increased my self-confidence as much as I started to study about mathematical science again. Every day I was thinking and I was telling to myself that now I can do whatever I want and I would reach my goals. It's unimaginable that after a few months I completed reading all of the standard books which were one of the requirements for the students of mathematics, which teachers were teaching them inside of high schools to the students, and the students had to completely read and finish those books to be able to go to university. I could receive a required rank in pure science and I went to university, however I was not getting good scores in math usually. Can you guess the major of the pure science which I was studying in university? Because of the regime falsified my educational examination to decrease my ranks and scores, it was mathematics! If they didn't falsified the exam then I could study aerospace!

Inside of the university, I asked an easy question about Probability from our teacher, during the first year, what he couldn't solve! But because of respecting to him I wouldn't mention the name of him nor would I mention my question that I asked him!

A BIT IS NEITHER A 0 NOR 1

There were another subject that made my brain busy for a few days that international designers used 0 and 1 to show bits inside of their graphical designs, I was laughing at it because of everybody thinks computers know zeroes and ones only, but later when the designers of the graphical arts (like what a social engineer does but about people) change the themes and patterns then people will find out that current computers (in 21th century) can understand off(s) and on(s) from another aspect of view when we made them they used vacuum tubes for digital computation including binary math and Boolean logic, they had no CPU. Then they relied on a series of switches for inputting data and they could output data by turning on and off a series of lights. From another aspect of view they could/can receive data through reading the differentiations between the holes what they have created on a surface (see the Punch Card picture on the page 12) so they only know physical holes or magnetic waves (in addition to radio frequencies, laser beam is some kind of magnetic waves also, which is useful for writing data on compact disks. And computers only know off(s) and on(s)) but when somebody wants to show people that he knows a lot then he says to those people that the smallest parts of a data, bits, are created from 1(s) and 0(s)! I was thinking about some of the problems in mathematical logic, also!

I was so happy, for I can study mathematics now inside of the university while I was not getting good scores in math but my political problems caused that I didn't go to the university no more! But no problem, when I stay calm U.S. will think about some supports, they told me I am a lieutenant now! Regarding to that I received these honors, there is a question which I don't know any answer for it. While I have some problems about my U.S. citizenship, when I decided to write my book, so won't it cause that the Iranian regime bothers me?! Even one of the public peoples, who isn't crazy, can give a reasonable answer to me! So is it logical that while my passport is not ready yet but because of the honors I talk about what happened before, by a military aspect of view, here! But no problem, I'm happy because of that I will see my families again and I will go to the university again, hopefully! They're responsible to protect us!

1. Space-Based Signals Intelligence facilities, that the shape of their structures is usually circular, like a bubble, on the Earth.
2. Stoning (or lapidation), is a form of capital punishment whereby a group throws stones at a person until death ensues. No individual among the group can be identified as the one who kills the subject, yet everyone involved plainly bears some degree of moral culpability. This is in contrast to the case of a judicial executioner. Slower than other forms of execution, stoning is a form of execution by torture. Stoning remained a legal form of judicial punishment in Iran, Qatar, Mauritania, Saudi Arabia, Somalia, Sudan, Yemen, Northern Nigeria, Terengganu in Malaysia, Aceh in Indonesia, United Arab Emirates, and Pakistan. Stoning after legal procedures have been reported only in Iran and Somalia; although several other countries practice extrajudicial stoning, while several others have sentenced people to death by stoning, but have not carried out the sentences.

5. The 2009 Nobel Peace Prize was awarded to U.S. President Barack Obama for his "extraordinary efforts to strengthen international diplomacy and cooperation between peoples". The Norwegian Nobel Committee announced the award on October 9, 2009, citing Obama's promotion of nuclear nonproliferation and a "new climate" in international relations fostered by Obama, especially in reaching out to the Muslim world—The Nobel Peace Prize (Norwegian and Swedish: Nobels fredspris) is one of the five Nobel Prizes created by the Swedish industrialist, inventor, and armaments manufacturer Alfred Nobel, along with the prizes in Chemistry, Physics, Physiology or Medicine, and Literature. Since 1901, it has been awarded annually (with some exceptions) to those who have "done the most or the best work for fraternity between nations, for the abolition or reduction of standing armies and for the holding and promotion of peace congresses".

Obama mentioned, following to that day when I (not him) started my political activities that many years passed now, a few months ago, once when he saw that in twitter (in addition to my email message to the White House) I wrote that "I like to write about the last presidential election" and also when I wrote (only in twitter but it wasn't over email) that "It's so beautiful if in real world everybody would act on the law. When someone acts against the law the police would arrest him soon, and then they would judge him in front of public, if and only if he really had acted against the law then they could send him to prison, else not! Chapter 2

Did you know black words on white papers are each other's complement? Did you know many scientists believe, first races of mankind came from Africa?
(President Barack Obama)

Since the American people elected the U.S. President, Barack Obama, to go to the house (the White House), the BBC (the British Broadcasting Corporation) started to attack his personality and his supporters, behind the scenes of several incidents. The BBC tortured some supporters of the President; I was a young boy during the volant time of these accidents. (I remember when I was a young boy while I hadn't lots of knowledge generally, I wrote to the BBC Persian: "Like what I heard from the Iranian people, when years ago the BBC broadcast the news that astronauts have seen Imam Khomeini's face on the Moon so the BBC had supported the Iranian Revolution to reach the victory.")¹ Many years later like what you will read in the Chapter 3, I did several kinds of activities while I was communicating with the BBC and while I was communicating with several other organizations also, which was such an agitated activities that I didn't like and also that wasn't beneficial for me and made my situation worsen. It's interesting, I loved some BBC Documentaries like 'The Spy Who Came in from the Cold' and 'Tinker Tailor Soldier Spy' the movie.² I have some friends there. One of their documentaries that I like is 'The Planet The Earth'.

Obama spoke up on manufacturing innovation industry: "We're building Iron Man"

OBAMA'S STORY (A SHORT BIOGRAPHY)

Barack Hussein Obama II, date of birth: August 4, 1961. He is the 44th President of the United States, and the first African American to hold the office. His story is the American story — values from the heartland, a middle-class upbringing in a strong family, hard work and education as the means of getting ahead, and the conviction that a life so blessed should be lived in service to others.

With a father from Kenya and a mother from Kansas, President Obama was born in Honolulu, Hawaii. Obama is a graduate of Columbia University and Harvard Law School, where he served as president of the Harvard Law Review. He was a community organizer in Chicago before earning his law degree. He was raised with help from his grandfather, who served in Patton's army, and his grandmother, who worked her way up from the secretarial pool to middle management at a bank.

After working his way through college with the help of scholarships and student loans, President Obama moved to Chicago, where he worked with a group of churches to help rebuild communities devastated by the closure of local steel plants.

He went on to attend law school, where he became the first African-American president of the Harvard Law Review. He worked as a civil rights attorney and taught constitutional law at the University of Chicago Law School from 1992 to 2004. He served three terms representing the 13th District in the Illinois Senate from 1997 to 2004, running unsuccessfully for the United States House of Representatives in 2000.

President Obama's years of public service are based around his unwavering belief in the ability to unite people around a politics of purpose. In the Illinois State Senate, he passed the first major ethics reform in 25 years, cut taxes for working families, and expanded health care for children and their parents. As a United States Senator, he reached across the aisle to pass groundbreaking lobbying reform, lock up the world's most dangerous weapons, and bring transparency to government by putting federal spending online.

He was elected the 44th President of the United States on November 4, 2008, and sworn in on January 20, 2009. He and his wife, Michelle, are the proud parents of two daughters, Malia and Sasha.

In 2004, Obama received national attention during his campaign to represent Illinois in the United States Senate with his victory in the March Democratic Party primary, his keynote address at the Democratic National Convention in July, and his election to the Senate in November. He began his presidential campaign in 2007 and, after a close primary campaign against Hillary Rodham Clinton in 2008; he won sufficient delegates in the Democratic Party primaries to receive the presidential nomination. He then defeated Republican nominee John McCain in the general election, and was inaugurated as president on January 20, 2009. Nine months after his election, Obama was named the 2009 Nobel Peace Prize laureate. The next day, some news channels, the Islamic ones at most, such as IRIB (the Islamic Republic of Iran Broadcasting agency and its related branches) made a propaganda on media against him, with regard to a few groups of people (some protesters) who were against the decision which the Nobel made.

During his first two years in office, Obama signed into law economic stimulus legislation in response to the Great Recession in the form of the American Recovery and Reinvestment Act of 2009 and the Tax Relief, Unemployment Insurance Reauthorization, and Job Creation Act of 2010. Other major domestic initiatives in his first term included the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, often referred to as "Obamacare"; the Dodd–Frank Wall Street Reform and Consumer Protection Act; and the Don't Ask, Don't Tell Repeal Act of 2010. In foreign policy, Obama ended U.S. military involvement in the Iraq War, increased U.S. troop levels in Afghanistan, signed the New START arms control treaty with Russia, ordered U.S. military involvement in Libya, and ordered the military operation that resulted in the death of Osama bin Laden. In November 2010, the Republicans regained control of the House of Representatives as the Democratic Party lost a total of 63 seats; and, after a lengthy debate over federal spending and whether or not to raise the nation's debt limit, Obama signed the Budget Control Act of 2011 and the American Taxpayer Relief Act of 2012 what will have long term benefits also.

Obama was re-elected president in November 2012, defeating Republican nominee Mitt Romney, and was sworn in for a second term on January 20, 2013. During his second term, Obama has promoted domestic policies related to gun control in response to the Sandy Hook Elementary School shooting, and has called for full equality for LGBT Americans, while his administration has filed briefs which urged the Supreme Court to strike down the Defense of Marriage Act of 1996 and California's Proposition 8 as unconstitutional. In foreign policy, Obama has continued the process of ending U.S. combat operations in Afghanistan. What you read in the current paragraphs is only a brief popular and important description about him. In Chapter 3 you shall learn more about what we did. You will read in details some information about our communications.

US secret activities about Russians aren't completely describable, and these activities are complicated.³

The contact form of the Central Intelligence Agency that I used to contact them

THE BEGINNING OF MY COOPERATION WITH THE CIA

I remember, it didn't take a long time after my first communication with the Central Intelligence Agency when Russians found me in Iran; they extracted patterns of my brain, the logic and reasoning and decision making systems of my brain. They did this for a while. It's very interesting for me that Russians since the beginning of my cooperation with the U.S. Intelligence Community, were kidding me and joking and they told: "Let we find out what do they want to do with you and what happened to you with this fuc ed-up brain of yours". At that moment of time I was only a teenager and because a variety of hard lessons which were necessary that I learn them, because that I consumed several kinds of supplements and drugs that I had to consume to improve my cognition and my memory, and because several actions of some leaders (those who acted behind the scene of several incidents during those days, when they got notified about I'm communicating with America —Leaders included the Iranian leader and the Chinese officials), I got sick mentally by hallucinations.⁴ The Ministry of Intelligence of Iran like what I wrote before, here in this book, caused some kind of mental problems for me (but also Iranian agents shared some secret facts to me - see the Chapter 4 where I mentioned "Like what you know, the Iranian Intelligence Service charged me"); I don't know a lot about Chinese yet, so I won't describe a lot about what they did. I remember after that I submitted my first text message via the Internet to the Central Intelligence Agency then I received an answer from a personal email address that somebody was created (using the “Yahoo” Internet Service Provider) the nick-name of the sender was Kevin (but I don’t remember what was the email address, exactly). He asked me that “describe me, what is your complete name, and tell me for what kind of organization are you working for?” etc. I was suspected about why he didn’t write for me via an official email address (why the format of the domain name which the personnel used is not something with this pattern xxx@cia.gov), then I asked him about the reason! He knew Persian language. I wrote to him: “If you do really work for the CIA so why your email address is not similar to the official governmental email addresses?” He didn’t answer me (I had thought that contacting or working for the CIA and other American agencies will deliver a satisfiable level of security for the person and they will ensure the safety of the one). I phoned the Office of Public Affairs (OPA) then I asked them about the reason (like what its staffs know, you would usually get connected to an automatic answering system after a phone call “Welcome to the Public Affairs of the Central Intelligence Agency” you can either send them a voice message or talk with them directly) but they couldn’t solve this issue of mine because my weakness on fast and fluently conversation of English language when I was only about fifteen years old (it might affect my life, a few percent⁵, as one of the causes that increased my previously hallucinations and it might had made me nervous and it might had made me suspected to my environmental situations also, during those few years, when I was not an adult yet. Because some messages which they sent me were misunderstandable and it was required that I increase my attentions to my environmental situations before, so that I could find out what do they mean). Meanwhile I didn’t call the OPA for a while. The Iranian Ministry of Intelligence began to brain-wash me, to change my ideologies like themselves. It was so dangerous for them that once upon a time I would become an important person and on that day I act against them. Nonetheless I shall note you that their activities increased my wisdom after some years. But even some of their leaders in Iran falsified my pre-university educational examination “Konkooor”. In Iran every students could join the “Konkooor” only once a year, annually, in summer.

When I was in Tehran, many times either the Iranian Basij forces or agents of the Iranian Intelligence Service⁶ told me “they want to make my car gets exploded”. Only they liked to make me fear a lot but not to explode it really. When I was in a train (the Tehran-Karaj metro line) in Tehran, as I felt they are probably after me, I crashed the glass of the windows of the metro which I was one of its passengers; I don’t know.... the driver of the train might see the parts of the glasses which were dropping down by the side of the railroad! Anyway he increased the speed of the train. I broke its windows using a fire extinguisher capsule (while I was a weak and a young boy), the speed of the train was something between 70 km/h to 100 km/h. I jumped out of the train. I got confused but I was not unconscious. Blood rushed into my lungs. It was not so painful. I didn't scream at all. I released my body so relax near the railway easily and I let my body roll on the surface of the ground, then after a few seconds I looked at my feet and my hands so calm, then I stood up slowly! There were only a mixture of fine sand and mud where the ground beneath my feet, and the sky was dark. A little the skin of my hands tore but only I lost a few drops of my blood! Suddenly they stopped following me, they feared! So they left me alone for a while. When I was breathing then I felt the smells of my blood in my lungs, but I hadn't pain nor did I break my bones! Inside the nature, around the railway, there were some buildings. And some people were working there. I don't know.... maybe there were electricity facilities and some people were working. I went forward; there was a fence that the workers had made there by iron networks. There were some wires there so that it splits this area from the nearby freeway on the other side. I decided to cut the wires by my knife, but it was impossible for me, then I decided to off the fence but I couldn't. I returned to the train station. I went out of the station. I went to one of the restaurants, nearby. I washed my hands, and cleared the blood from my skin. And I ordered a barbecue (Kebab) for myself.

The food was so delicious. I went out of the restaurant. A sensation of being alone, inside a quiet, calm, and dark alley. A shade of purple lights, which was shining on the trees and blacktop, and it was attracting my attentions. A sensation of fresh, cool and light air of spring season, around me, caressed my face. I wore a light suit. It was not the first time that I checked my shoes to find out "is anything implemented inside them?" The Iranian agents had told me that we put a device (a chip) there to track your location. I was not an agent. I didn't know, there is nothing inside of them; but they could track my location when my cell-phone was on and also when I insert my personal debit card to an ATM to withdraw cash. I personally saw that how they (the government) could do it in Iran many years ago, in about 2004 and even years before. One of the injuries of my hand is related to when I jumped out of the metro and then it became completely alright like what it was before, after a few days (the injury was very small) and also another time when I was about 17 years old and I was living with my family in Iran, I did fireworks and I injured my finger when I have not traveled to Turkey even, and it's related to when I was trying to understand something more about the possible ways of receiving the American citizenship, when I were hospitalized afterwards and its documents were submitted at several Iranian hospitals! I remember these problems happened to me only a few years before I join the Red Crescent society as a medic! And also before I decide to make a normal and new life for myself.

I remember that I was casually reading some books like “Iran: Time for a New Approach”.⁷ I searched via the Internet, inside of some encyclopedias, to read more articles about Obama’s personality. It was so interesting for me that the name of the U.S. President is Barack Hussein. Hussein was a figure in the history of Islam. Two major ideologies of Islam are Shia and Sunni. The Sunni Muslims attacked one of the Shia Imams—‘Hussein’ and they killed him. They also killed many members of his family. They were living in the Middle East. Neither they were black nor were they living in Africa. Later (like what you can see inside some books about the history of Islam) the ideology of Islam was propagated in Africa also (Once President Obama told me “Did you know many Americans immigrated to America from Africa. In fact many scientists believe one of the first races of mankind spread around the Globe and populated the continents from Africa”).

MUSLIMS, COURANT, AND RUSHDIE

The Muslims’ prophet was Muhammad, he was living somewhere in the Middle East. Either Arabic numerals were popularized in Europe and now are widely in use. Richard Courant (an important figure in the history of mathematics) inside his book (“What is mathematics?”) mentioned it. As he differs the Roman systems with Hindu system, he mentioned Hindu positional system was introduced into medieval Europe by the merchants of Italy, who learned it from the Moslems. Meanwhile don’t get confused, Muhammad birthplace was not India⁸. He was born in a desert that people call Iraq. He is the first and the only prophet of Moslems. In one of the works of *Sir. Salman Rushdie*⁹ which caused that in 1989 Ayatollah Ruhollah Khomeini issued a fatwa (death threat) ordering Muslims to kill him, you see, the prostitutes of Mecca used the name of Muhammad’s wives (they could marry not only one wife but many!) on themselves to increase their guests, so for example if a name of Muhammad’s wife was Khadija bint Khuwaylid then some prostitutes called themselves Khadija. Another major subjects that you would see inside that, is: Muhammad said the angel Gabriel (Jibrail, Jibril) delivered the words of the God to him but one day Satan did this, but he imagined that it’s Gabriel again; then Muhammad approved the verses to get submitted in Quran (while we can’t trust to the reliability of what Satan says), but later Muhammad denied those verses, he received some new verses. This time it was the angel Gabriel but not the Devil who gave those new verses to Muhammad. But Rushdie asks, when once upon a time the Devil told these words to Muhammad so how is it possible that someone ensure you that the one who told all the other verses of the Quran to Muhammad was not the Devil instead of the angel Gabriel! However its an opinion of him.

BBC AND PROPAGANDA

Similar to what you read in the first paragraphs of the current chapter, I was in touch with the BBC (yet) and agents of the Iranian regime were after me, when I was writing casual messages to the CIA and the White House, and because I stood against the Iranian nuclear program, these kinds of activities caused that the BBC (members of the BBC – Imagine that it's currently our war; to give an annotation to you, think that it's a part of the current war of us) and the intelligence service of the Iranian regime (while some other civil private organizations in Iran were aware of what was happening to me) attacked me, they caused mental problems for me, the BBC several times repeated a few terms.¹⁰ Also if you take a look inside the Kids' Zone of the website of the Central Intelligence Agency, there is a game there, its name is Break the Code, you would try to break this code by different methods, it's funny, even it caused that I learn more details about what they were communicating with their cooperators inside other surveillance stations.

THE UNITED NATIONS CONVENTION AGAINST TORTURE

Tens of years ago, the United Nations Convention against Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment came into force in June 1987:

Article 1

1. For the purposes of this Convention, the term "torture" means any act by which severe pain or suffering, whether physical or mental, is intentionally inflicted on a person for such purposes as obtaining from him or a third person information or a confession, punishing him for an act he or a third person has committed or is suspected of having committed, or intimidating or coercing him or a third person, or for any reason based on discrimination of any kind, when such pain or suffering is inflicted by or at the instigation of or with the consent or acquiescence of a public official or other person acting in an official capacity. It does not include pain or suffering arising only from, inherent in or incidental to lawful sanctions.
2. This article is without prejudice to any international instrument or national legislation which does or may contain provisions of wider application.

Article 2

1. Each State Party shall take effective legislative, administrative, judicial or other measures to prevent acts of torture in any territory under its jurisdiction.
2. No exceptional circumstances whatsoever, whether a state of war or a threat of war, internal political instability or any other public emergency, may be invoked as a justification of torture.

3. An order from a superior officer or a public authority may not be invoked as a justification of torture.

Article 3

1. No State Party shall expel, return ("refouler") or extradite a person to another State where there are substantial grounds for believing that he would be in danger of being subjected to torture.
2. For the purpose of determining whether there are such grounds, the competent authorities shall take into account all relevant considerations including, where applicable, the existence in the State concerned of a consistent pattern of gross, flagrant or mass violations of human rights.

Article 16

1. Each State Party shall undertake to prevent in any territory under its jurisdiction other acts of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment which do not amount to torture as defined in article 1, when such acts are committed by or at the instigation of or with the consent or acquiescence of a public official or other person acting in an official capacity. In particular, the obligations contained in articles 10, 11, 12 and 13 shall apply with the substitution for references to torture of references to other forms of cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment.

MUSLIMS, HUSSEIN, SATANISTS

Even if you watch some investigative documentaries that famous directors and producers made against the government in America, you will find out that the Iranian government would increase amounts of their enriched Uranium but these documentaries are against a war what they told it probably can happen in Iran. I remember that I was not a Christian yet. Habitually and normally I was (a young boy who was) a Muslim because my families were Muslims. But they were not devoted Muslims, and I was not a devoted one also. I liked to study about atheists ideology. I liked to talk about it with other people, with who had liked and had supported atheists (I was only casually reading about the ideology of evangelists and Satanists (Satanism) also). But a few years earlier because of my love to the U.S. president, when I was consuming drinking water, because I liked to exhibit to who liked to bother me and torture me through using secret weapons because I was made some communications with President Obama that I'm proud of the U.S. President, I had told them: "Ya Hussein". And a few times I said: "Ya Barack Hussein". The philosophy of this culture (the Islamist-Shia culture), a culture and ideology that its supporters believe that Hussein is holy, is related to a millennium ago, when (alike what you can see in some books, majoring historical science) Armies of Yazid son of the Moavie (Moavie and Yazid were Sunni leaders) cut the head of Hussein while he asked the army to give him water before they kill him but they didn't (Hussein was the son of Ali ibn Abi Talib and Fatimah Zahra, and the younger brother of Hasan ibn Ali). Ali ibn Abi Talib was the cousin and son-in-law of the Muslims' prophet Muhammad. Sunnis consider Ali the fourth and final of the Rashidun (rightly guided Caliphs), while Shias regard Ali as the first Imam. Islamists gave them an order, a law that exists in Islam, when you change your religion to any other religions, when you were a Muslim before, so the Islamist leader must kill you. I remember when I was about fifteen years old, I was watching some video clips about when (even nowadays) a Muslim cut the head of the other one (in Iraq) then because of the pressure of his tongue that was exerted behind his tooth, the pressure opened his jaw and his tongue was rolling out (that videos were fearful clips for me when I watched them), about nine years later, I became a Christian and I felt its impacts on my life, it was one year later when Barack Hussein Obama gave me the authority of decision making and the CIA gave me an E-5 unofficial Medal of Honor. Meanwhile it was about ten years after that I was watching these horrible clips about those Islamists. Corresponding to that moment of time, even when the regime made some documentaries against the Satanist, if sometimes they had decided to talk about its symbol they usually were showing the upside down cross to public to inform them that the Satanists are against the holy God but they didn't discuss about the downward-pointing pentagram. Pentagram is a holy symbol, while (even though following a bit satanic aspect of views) the downward-pointing pentagram is the real, main, and most famous symbol of Satanism. But because the upright pentagram designed on the flag of Israel so they didn't like to talk about this with investigative people who liked to watch their documentaries, because it could make some paradoxes towards what their supporters believe.

IRANIAN UNDERSTANDING OF THE WESTERN SOCIETIES

I was a teenager and I was confronted with an issue that in Iran it was necessary for women to wear scarf and some men (those who were between 16 to 26 years old) liked to follow them and joke with them and it was a habit for these men that if any other man talks with this woman or if he talks with any other women nearby then they attack him, usually! When I was juggling late nights inside the city (for example in Esfahan, Apadana Street), sometimes I saw some prostitutes were inside some cars of the men, then for example that man allegedly continued to drive the car while the woman liked to get out and she was screaming because she didn't like to stay with him. Their people usually love some funny things like fire play. They usually love to visit their own families such as the father, mother and grandmother, every week! A variety of different people are living there. Many of them have not been in America ever but they like the American culture (however some of these peoples don't like it). They watch different types of the perfect movies that Hollywood produces for people. Because they like science and technology so they like the structure and designs of many famous American cities and they like its skyscrapers; they have lots of universities and the students can study a variety of science there but these universities are not completely perfect, they're neither like the European nor like the American universities.

Siosepol Bridge - Esfahan, Iran

THE PASSION OF COOPERATION WITH THE INTERPOL

Once I decided to search inside the website of the international-police (Interpol). I confronted with some articles; I read some articles about the required trainings that were necessary for everyone who had decided to join the Interpol. I still remember, one of the required trainings were 12 Kilometers of juggling, including 30 minutes of some soft and easy exercises after each 3 Kilometers of the juggling. It was morning when I decided to do it once; I woke up before sunrise. I wore my clothes, and then I walked downstairs. I stepped on the asphalts of our alley, and then I came to the street. From the eastern parts of our city (Ghadir Gharden, 22 Bahman street, Shariati alley) to the center of this city (Enghelab square) then to the south (Azadi sq., is also called Darwaze-shiraz sq.) and then I returned to the center of the city (there is a river there, near the Enghelab square. Its name is Zayande-rood river. And there is a bridge on the river. Its name is Siosepol bridge. It's not the only bridge that exists in the city.

Sometimes, few peoples had decided to write their own names on the walls of the bridge or paint a logo or write a word by color mist sprays or by charcoal on its walls. For some years the river was dried, sometimes it only has a very limited amounts of water) and then I went a bit to the north side, there was the house of my grandmother,¹¹ who died some years ago. She had never gone to school. I remember those days when she was dying because brain hemorrhage (It's some kind of stroke or Brain Bleeding): hemorrhage means losing lots of blood of the body which causes losing concentration and attention of the person and then it causes death. A brain hemorrhage is caused by an artery in the brain bursting and causing localized bleeding in the surrounding tissues. A shock to the tissues and local compression would cause unconsciousness. Sometimes I was visiting the hospital to visit and take care of my grandmother. That wasn't a modernized hospital. It was a windy day and the windows of the patients' room were open. The door of the patients' room shut hard by the force of the wind, for a few seconds my ears were buzzing. My grandmother was unconscious there. We call this situation "Coma"—mentally unconsciousness of the brain. You can see that I'm writing these descriptions so calm. I remember when our teacher was teaching me how to be a medic, they told me: "you shall not to be nervous while you are medicating some patients." You can see that I describe you some idioms that doctors use, while I am so calm. I liked my grandmother so much, but this is a basic fact for every important figures, agents, and medics, not to let their brain because pain or because environmental situations act against logic.

CPR AND ITS THREE BASIC STEPS

One of the strange things in many countries is that many peoples don't know what CPR (Cardiac & Pulmonary Rehabilitation) is, while 'learning it' causes ability of saving the life of your family. It's so easy! However don't forget that you cannot try to do it on a healthy person, if you do CPR on someone who has a pulse (while the heart of the patient is beating), you would hurt some parts of his body (even it's possible that you kill him). Also when somebody isn't breathing, it doesn't mean that the heart of the person (for sure) has stopped beating. But if the one's heart stops, so just stops the breathing of the one. Before and during CPR you must be able to maintain the three basic steps of CPR, are easily remembered as "ABC": A for airway, B for breathing, and C for circulation (Those who can identify heart stopped victims fast (because they had some trainings before), can do "CAB" instead of "ABC" so at first they maintain blood circulation for victims). A is for airway: The victim's airway must be open for breathing to be restored. The airway may be blocked when a person loses consciousness or may be obstructed by food or some other foreign object. B is for breathing: Rescue breathing is begun when someone isn't breathing. C is for circulation: Chest compressions can sometimes restore circulation. You must put the tips of your fingers on the vein of the patient's neck or you must put the tips of your fingers on the wrist of his hands, and then check it, is it beating? (You must try it on healthy individuals to insure yourself about when somebody's heart is beating so you can feel the pulse and you're never making mistakes.)

Check the pulse on the side of the neck

If it's not beating, then you must put the patient on a hard surface, you make your lungs full of fresh air what is full of the oxygen and then you open his mouth and then blow it inside of his lungs, at the moment you do it again and again, two more times. Don't forget you can't do this kind of training on a healthy partner, also if the patient is an infant then you can't below all the air that an adult lung contains (about the infant, each breath should be 1 second long. Use two or three fingers (instead of putting your both hands on the infant's chest) in the center of the chest just below the nipples. Press down approximately one-third the depth of the chest, about 1 and a half inches. About the infants you need to study some other books, not to harm their body). So you've set the patient on a hard surface, and you've blown some air inside his lungs. Then you put your both hands while you tied your fingers to each other on the middle of his chest, while you haven't bent your arms (I usually sit on the right side so I can set and maintain a better pressure on the patient's heart on the left side), you stiff your hands while one is on the other one (the tip of your fingers don't touch his chest during the massage and you set the pressure on the heart using the pressure which the muscles of your backbone maintain for you), you press the chest (beat it repeatedly (in fact press the chest slowly), push it up and down, as much as you can) for 1 minute, the patient's chest bends down a few inches then you do it again, you do it at least about 60 times (it's not necessary that you set the timer, don't waste the time, you can simply count to sixty or seventy during the massage but don't forget you must press it consecutively as much as it is possible for you to—correctly—do it. The more pulses, the better recovery for the patient. About the infant, you shall give chest compressions at the rate of at least 100 per minute), then you check his heart pulse, is it beating? If not, to complete the final step, until it starts to beat again, you blow fresh air to his lungs two times and then set the pressure on his heart for 30 seconds (you can count to thirty or forty. If you try to inflict about thirty five pulses on the heart of the patient during those thirty seconds while you are counting—one by one—to thirty five, by each pressure, it's better for the patient. However there are different standards about it, but don't forget: the higher and effectively faster heart massage, the better massage) without checking his heart pulse you blow fresh air to his lungs two more times and maintain pressure on his heart for 30 seconds once again, then you check his heart pulse, is it beating? If not, then you repeat the final step that I described above. If a pulse is present, continue to keep the airways clean (ventilating extra liquids out of the patient's mouth would be necessary), check the patient for normal and healthy breathing (giving some extra artificial breaths can be necessary), and hook the patient to an oxygen supply.

HIV/AIDS

I will give you some details about the HIV (Aids) widespread around the Globe; meanwhile the recent drugs are not available for people. Even when I wrote to the IFRC and also I had an interview with VOA PNN (Voice of America) about the HIV widespread, then I worsened my problems because of what I described to people. Moreover, it's necessary that I recommend you, during sexual intercourse proper hygiene should be taken into account and people should use condoms. Also there are several kinds of anti-virus drugs available for you, but some doctors are not usually aware of these drugs' potential for healing people from HIV yet (especially doctors of some developing countries don't usually deal with them) or at least they usually do not prescribe them. The name of these kinds of drugs is antiretroviral. When someone gets infected by HIV then if he receives this kind of medicines, before the first 72 hours of the first contact by the virus, probably the one can heal the body from the HIV viruses and hopefully the person will be fine completely, soon. HIV became a global pandemic for (several issues of) World War.

Post-exposure prophylaxis (PEP) is the use of ARVs (antiretrovirals) as soon as possible after exposure to HIV, to prevent HIV infection. PEP can reduce the rate of infection in health care workers exposed to HIV by 79%. The U.S. Public Health Service recommends using a combination of three approved ARVs for four weeks. People can be exposed to HIV by an unsafe sexual activity, when a condom breaks during a sexual intercourse, or if they share a needle for injecting drugs. Infants can be exposed to HIV if they drink breast milk from an infected woman. Many years ago, in (about) 1985, more than 12 professors (including Sandra Lehrman, Samuel Broder, Hiroaki Mitsuya, David Barry, Weinhold K, Wright K, Robert Yarchoan, Gertrude Elion, Paul (Chip) McGuirt Jr., Philip Furman, Martha St. Clair, Janet Rideout) participated in some researches which later showed that in a study of PEP in 400 cases of possible sexual exposure to HIV, not one person became infected with HIV (The discoverers of the human immunodeficiency virus (HIV) were Luc Montagnier, Robert Gallo, and Françoise Barré-Sinoussi. Jerome P. Horwitz created AZT (Zidovudine), the first approved treatment for HIV patients. In those days when he synthesized the chemical compound for the first time, he hoped that it would be a successful treatment for cancer). In order for post-exposure prophylaxis to have a chance of working, the medication needs to be taken as soon as possible, and within 72 hours of exposure to HIV. Left any longer and it is thought that the effectiveness of the treatment is severely diminished. But it's very important that the patient, who is completing the course of PEP treatment, takes the treatment exactly as prescribed by the doctor or health worker. The side effects of the medication are a reason why some people find it difficult to adhere to the full 28-day course of treatment properly. So I personally recommend you that if you can visit your doctor during the first hours of the suspicious contact then you ask him to prescribe you the required drugs, else you yourself should do it. Warning, all of the dosages that I mentioned are for adult people only. Zidovudine (300 mg orally every 12 hours, or 200 mg orally every 8 hours) is the drug that is primarily prescribed after an occupational exposure to HIV and it's the only drug that has been tested in trials on health care workers. Nowadays most of the treatment starter packs contain a combination of zidovudine, lamivudine (150 mg twice a day) and nelfinavir (750 mg three times a day)—in the third world countries they also prescribe lopinavir or ritonavir instead of nelfinavir), as it is generally thought that combination drug therapy is more effective than zidovudine alone. The results of one occupational exposure study showed that taking a course of zidovudine after exposure, reduced the risk of HIV infection by approximately 81 percent. As of 2013, the prevention regimen recommended in the United States consists of three medications—tenofovir, emtricitabine and raltegravir (in the 3rd world countries raltegravir is not prescribed usually, however these three medications tenofovir, emtricitabine and raltegravir usually are prescribed in most countries)—as this may reduce the risk further. Take these three kinds of drugs at a same time; this is a method for therapeutic or prophylactic treatment of HIV (tenofovir 300 mg per day, emtricitabine 200 to 400 mg per day, raltegravir 800 mg once daily). Visit your doctor as soon as possible. Your doctor may need to adjust your dosage to decrease the side effects of the drugs! Long-term use of antiretrovirals (at any dosages and especially at these high and effective dosages that I mentioned here) can weaken (causes depression for) the body's immune system and it would damage your liver also!

Like what I wrote in this chapter, I went to the house of my grandmother after acting on the scheme that I had read before on the website of Interpol. Not only it didn't make me tried but also it was an interesting and freshening exercise for me. I enjoyed it a lot. Wearing fine clothes and good shoes is very important for you during exercise. Consuming dietary supplements is very important for your health, eating a satisfiable amount of foods containing a balanced mixture of carbohydrates and proteins (a few boiled glair eggs and a glass of low-fat milk that you drink for breakfast that contains proteins and calcium is required for your diet) and antioxidants and vitamins and BCAAs (Branched-chain amino acids) are necessary for your body during these kinds of exercises.

Notes

1. And I note when they showed the president's picture with a shout-gun in his hands (while lots of VIPs doing these kinds of trainings) so they caused a shame on him.

Corresponding to that moment of time I was working inside an Internet café located at Mojtame-e-Park, Esfahan, Iran. After the contact what I made with them (regarding to their support of the Iranian regime) then they (The BBC Persian) contacted me and ridiculed me and insulted on me and bothered me. I remember when I was a teenager sometimes I was imagining that while all of the chemical elements have an unique wavelength pattern on Electromagnetic Spectroscopy so people can easily understand what kind of elements made the other planets so they can search for diamond, gold, silver, etc. on other planets. I was comparing atoms with solar systems, and I was imagining that at the center of each atom there are heavy elements like neutron and proton, and electrons are orbiting them; in solar systems the heavy son is located at center (and nuclear reactions are happening inside it) and planets are orbiting them. Every white cells that can attack microbes alike an intelligent creature, are made up by some molecules and the molecules are made up by their unique atoms that have a same situation also. The cells (or molecules) of our organs or our body don't know what is happening outside our body. Even when each electron escapes an atom, there is an empty space between each atom. If this system's limit goes to infinite so there is not only 'one' universe that exists, maybe we and other societies are a small part that makes another (whether or not, what people call "lively") body (the calling, alike calling numeral systems in base-10), and even it may go to infinite. However the current scale which is observable for us and we are living in, must be one of the very rare habitual scales for life. And however it was only what I was imagining, and it was what I was compering its patterns and models in my imagination.

Alike what you see (whether a theory is correct or not, but) peoples' mind must be creative, even recently I sent a tweet to a figure and I mentioned "When I left the university because governmental pressure, before the third term, Iranian students even couldn't write one correct paragraph of a book in English on the practice and with appliance of their knowledge. They didn't care about Voskhod & Soyuz technologies, etc."

But alike what I wrote, only a few percent (at most 10%) it worsened my mental problems in those days.

THE ATTACK ON THE BRITISH EMBASSY IN IRAN

On November 29, 2011, the British Embassy located on Ferdowsi Street was under attack¹ by a crowd who stormed the building, that day the embassy was empty of its main employees and its diplomats, a few cars remained inside. I remember....it was a few months before of the attack on the British Embassy in Tehran² that I called them. I asked the related persons³ to guide me about how may I apply to receive the British citizenship. A member of my family lives in London.⁴ Those complaints between the two countries that I mentioned, have connection to classified information. There were some issues about some lands and a garden which the British government bought from Iranian authorities for themselves but later the regime decided to take it back. They decided to keep the lands (Britain had paid for the lands. I was under torture in Iran, Its description is submitted in page 46 about my situation near the U.S. Presidential Election date; like many other countries, the Great Britain had notified a bit about my issue). Because the Iranian regime decided to cause that the Iranian people, not only stop to transmit their classified information, but also the people stop to transmit their everyday complaints about their own regime to the British Embassy. It was in the year of 2011 that supporters of the right political wing (Iranian conservatives), decided to strengthen their possessions. Because of the British Broadcasting Corporation (the Persian Channel of the BBC) had supported and they are still supporting the left political wing in Iran more than other possessions. I don't mean the BBC doesn't have any cooperation or communication with the Iranian Intelligence Service currently and I don't mean the BBC is not supporting the Iranian leader (Ayatollah Al-uzma Seyyed Ali) at all, however the amount that they support him is fewer than the amount that they support the left wing and it's not completely against some current diplomatic benefits nor is it against America nor against England, if I try to look at this problem and explain it more in details while the way that I'm looking at our gathered information is not biased. Like what you read, the regime became angry with the Great Britain. It's necessary that I note you, some Iranian peoples were vulnerable during those moments, not only because of their own dictator regime but also because of decisions of some other countries. Iranian members of the “Basij-e Daneshjuyi” (Basij: The Iranian students who can work for militia after they submit their identities and after that they fill a registration form. They fill and sign the related forms and papers to join the Basij as one of the cooperators of the Islamic military groups—The founder of this organization is Imam Khomeini: the first leader of the Iranian Islamic Revolution. Basij-e Daneshjuyi means: the university students who are working for Basij) made a plan, the Basij force after informal approval of the Iranian leader and Iranian Intelligence Service and some conservative possessions, made a plan to reach themselves to the embassy, storm it, and attack it. The British Secret Intelligence Service convinced that standing against them is not beneficial for the United Kingdom while during these critical moments, not only the embassy personals, similarly to what they were doing before, were doing their jobs inside the embassy, but also they liked to make discussion with the Iranian people. They liked to do several kinds of interesting investigative activities that haven’t diplomatic, and haven’t financial outcome for themselves. When Basij forces were walking forward to reach the embassy, the United Kingdom warned the remained personals to leave. Important people went out of the embassy, before those people reach themselves to the embassy. Only a few cars remained there.

The attack on the British Embassy - Tehran

Diplomatic Security officers asked the people (the Basij) not to go inside the embassy, but they didn't care and they stormed the building. Iran's diplomatic system crashed, they lost their diplomacy with western countries (Basij had stormed, attacked, and so they had shut down the American Embassy at the beginning of the Islamic Revolution, also). There was no difference about the political possessions of the Iranian people. There was no difference about are they against the regime or not?! There was no difference about are they supporting the west or not?! They lost their political support that (a little, or somehow moderately) they had before, by western countries. Nonetheless the citizens were neither enough up-to-date to be realized, nor shortly would realize, how the crash affected them. The government didn't describe for them in media about this action's details.

TERROR OF AN IRANIAN NUCLEAR SCIENTIST

I remember that it was one day before the day that one of the Iranian scientists died by a terror attack. The scientist was working for nuclear agencies of the Iranian regime. He was a student (majoring physics), and he was living in Iran. He was studying and he was doing some researches at Sharif University of Technology. Few days before of the assassination, I was searching about some top-secret information about transmitting voice to people. I was doing these researches via the Internet. Last night, during a communication with America while the CIA and I were talking with each other, an unidentified agency burst upon our conversation and told "We want to kill someone! What do you think so?!" "I usually don't like terror" I answered. He was kidding me and replayed: what if I kill you! "I don't know! Kill everyone you want!" I answered (I don't know what did he mean when he (who burst upon and joined our conversation) said something to me, something like a code or a formula that MNE1(k)<MAN IOU WEL GAS).

Tomorrow, like what I remember today, accidentally only about some minutes before/after the explosion of his car, I sent a SMS (message) to my step-brother.⁵ I wrote for him: I'm sorry that I had cooperated with some foreign agencies. I'm tiered now. I think it's better for me that I make a normal and new life for myself.

I came back to our home after a few hours passed. My mother had bought me baked meat and rice from a restaurant; I was hungry because I had not eaten lunch yet. I started to eat the foods. Our television was on, and it was presenting news, suddenly the news anchor said: "One of the Iranian students of nuclear science died. His car has exploded near the Sharif University. Those who caused this explosion had used some kind of electromagnetic bombs. The name of this martyr is Mostafa Ahmadi-Roshan."⁶ A few hours passed. But the situation changed. Some unidentified, powerful countries harassed me. They began attacking me (Even though I'm not in a secure position to call their names but I can guess they were including R___, etc.). At the moment the CIA contacted me via a satellite communication also, and told me something like "OK [nasty idiot], no problem, no problem". With regard to other forces, I don't know who they were, but some unidentified persons were showing me a drawing (a polygon; the borderlines were red and it was like fire and inside the polygon there was a big white mouse). Now you know a bit about the UKUSA Security Agreement and those activities that I like to call 'our current war', they was shouting loud near my ears. I didn't hear what the CIA told me, because they were speaking quietly. I don't know why am I felt that the CIA can't help me and I must ask the Iranian Intelligence Service to help me (I was in Iran and the Iranian Intelligence Service had accused me with aiding the enemy (America), before). I was coughing when I phoned them. I insulted on some of the whom they had several kinds of complaints with them.

They decided to bother me, from our nation. I got sold from America to our enemies. I got tortured by some kind of classified methods of exposure. I was forced to vomit a few times. However because their kindness to me, leaking more information—about those days—are not beneficial in the current times. And there was an agent (the names what he used for himself was T Matthew Tom Raz Phillips Johnson Calan), one of the Americans (alike the information that I received by my friends, the information what I received about his name and his nationality, and also the simulated picture of him) who while he was shouting, tortured me also (he has a long jaw and a long chin, his eyes is a little more circular than what you see inside of the following simulated picture). I don't know anything more! It's possible that the writing style of the current paragraph, and the mentioned name of the security agreement, and also the will of the mankind's brain that usually likes to imagine that a capitalist government can do whatever it likes to do, causes—by reading what follows—that you wholly imagine, our current war is happening around people with no any authority from the East. But the term 'with no any authority' is not (exactly) a right idea.

T Matthew Tom Raz Phillips Johnson Calan⁷

In those days I was driving my car and I was listening to several kinds of political music or the music of Michael Jackson (in addition to those amazing music, I was also listening to several other kinds of music that weren't including good ideologies, which some Muslims, etc. had sang those songs. But at that moment I was cooperating with America while I was not a politician nor was I a member of the Army, so the issue of being responsible about the public, being responsible to protect them, etc. had not challenged my life. And I was so young, but in addition to the Jackson's music, I was also listening to some music opposed to the fundamental beliefs and ideologies which developed the body of the Islamic Revolution. I was listening to them while the volume was turned up to high, in my car. And public could listen it. It was an action that the Iranian Intelligence Service didn't like). Alike what you see, I'm so calm while I describe you these memoirs that have happened to me like a nightmare—while except of my decision to describe them here for the first time to find an actionable path towards its solutions, neither officers nor public have discussed about them yet—It's so important for every affectionate personnel, not to let the one's brain during a vulnerable moment, because of pain or because of environmental situations, acts against logic. I saw, while I am getting torture other boys are going to party with their girlfriends, while some other people are getting shot and they are dying! When peoples were terrorized in another country then I were confused and I had lost my concentration to be able to communicate with other public persons who were around me! And it usually caused that they laugh at me, and tell me: don't you have any mental problem?! I decided not to act against my personal security—I remember, since I left my parents in Iran and I came in Turkey⁸ to travel to the United States, during these years, while stress has surrounded the deep of my soul and because I had lots of problems and challenges to continue my personal life, after many months of being silent and calm even when somebody insulted on me, but I could talk clear and my voice became base a bit when I was shouting to the owner of an Internet café who came and turned the computer off while I had not completed my authorship works yet! The other Internet café which was not located that far, wasn't a good place. Some times when I was there and I was working with a computer, young boys were fighting and they were shooting each other towards the glass of its large windows, and it might crash on my head! But when I was living near my families, even for going to a prefect Internet café, with its good tea and coffee and cappuccino services, I drove my Peugeot Car to go to the Internet café, not to walk inside the hot and busy street alone—I could not describe my knowledge to people in a conference; people never asked me about any reciprocative help! People would lose their chance that they can learn something new, when they don't listen to other people, and by kindness they can gain good feeling! At that moment I was not (personally) performing any service for the agency, I was dealing with some issues that getting confronted with them were necessary about being successful in helping people, but I was so investigative. I said what I liked to say, and I wrote my opinions inside some webpages via the Internet whether my opinions were good, right or wrong, liberalism or anarchical or conservative! Sometimes you get confronted with some people who like to attack animals. You see lots of African and Asian children die because of contaminated waters, those who nobody taught them how they can have a respectful beauty life. Yet they suffer by internal armed conflict, following that they have received more international public attention even! You see lots of children inside of the developing countries, those who have lots of potentials but the related charity organizations don't help them to reach what they could! You see innocent and weak African black women get raped, slaughtered and die because of sickness and fatal infections! You might get confronted with violence against women, all around the Globe. The women who naturally love to respect to the needs of their men! Like what you read before, I was not an army member. The fearful world of armies, the unimaginable underground bases that you cannot imagine! The hard and formal decisions that the one must obey! Death and casualties! Like what you read before, near my family, in my hometown, I was driving car and I was listening to some kind of political music or some music of Michael Jackson.

IN REMEMBRANCE OF MICHAEL JACKSON

While I rarely cry but the emotional potentials that the music of Michael Jackson exerted and implied on me, made me cry! “Heal the world, make it a better place, for you and for me and the entire human race” I screamed: Where are you now Michael! Who might cause that you aren’t alive today! When an ambulance reached itself to your unconscious body it was only a few days remained to the moment that you had decided to travel to the United Kingdom from the United States! It’s all what gone bad, dead head!

THE IRANIAN INTELLIGENCE SERVICE

When Iranian Intelligence Service of Esfahan "Setade Khabari" on 2009 (a few years before these complaints happen to me) asked me to go there, they accused me of contacting the Central Intelligence Agency, transmitting some information to foreigner agencies, and aiding the enemy. The building is located on Hashtbeheshht St. There was an officer outdoor, and people could ring the doorbell. Another officer opened the door. I passed a small yard; there were a few rooms inside the building. We went to one of the rooms when a low-rank officer informed some other agents about our arrival. There was a phone inside each rooms. After a while the phone rang and somebody talked with me then he asked me to wait a little. After a while three agents arrived and asked me to go to a bigger room. They gave me a cup of tea; my hands were shaking. They asked me "Why your hands are shaking?" "However it's the first time that I personally come inside an intelligence agency" I answered. They asked me some questions, and they forced me to fill a form, and then I left the place. Because they didn't arrest me so I decided to discuss and learn more about their ideologies. No one asked me to describe him about those decisions that Israel made nor did they ask me about the members of the United Nations Security Council. I'm not at an optimum political situation—while I suffer of the cold weather of Ankara (only in winter weather is so cold, in summer it's only a bit intolerably hot), in Turkey—Between these countries, opposed to the others, France was good supporter of Barack Obama. It was necessary that I get out of Iran soon. It was near the 2013 U.S. Presidential Election. Some people decided to act against President Obama. Let me only mention that Obama was black and he was a democrat and they liked to bring a republic and a white president! But what's the difference! While my skin's color is white at most but I have lots of white and black friends. Who completely respects to people which born in the Middle East. They tried to make some challenges and use me against Obama. I was not so wise in those days, so they decided to bother me. There were a few weeks that I didn't go to university because it was not beneficial for some powers that I gain a secure scholar foundation. I went to Kaveh Terminal in Esfahan. I took a bus, and then I went to Tehran (It's the capital city of Iran). I went to Argentine Terminal near Saware Beyhaghi Park. Even the most powerful agencies cannot independently protect peoples' life. Sometimes agents were aware of that a threat would come real, meanwhile sometimes sharing the gathered information with people couldn't solve the problem (nonetheless several times for my journalizing activities many agencies attacked me; and I don't mean internal agencies were such an exception). There was a while that the CIA was telling (between our communications) that "You are a good bad boy now" if they had acted independently against another agent, they would get imprisoned in America (while those actions caused that I'm still alive). I took a bus. During that travel, the Esfahan Intelligence Service of Iran didn't accept that I get attacked, but the Iranian Minister of Intelligence (Heydar Moslehi: born in Esfahan, was the Minister of Intelligence in Tehran-Iran) ordered that they attack me, the latest message which he mentioned on that day, was: "I might already have killed you by hanging. It's our law. You've acted against our security. A little you c o m e and go, but I don't kill you. But if you act against me, I can either kill you or rap— your fami——, etc."

Heydar Moslehi

But somebodies sent electricity to my testes, for torture. I remember Saman Bank of Iran (in 2008) had tried to bother me; they could put some ATMs out of network. So I could not withdraw cash by my debit card (even in Tehran their voice-president did some activities against/for some other figures of the regime, that I'm not completely aware of them yet). One of the other Iranian mullahs "Mehdi Karroubi" was so happy and he was laughing at this bad situation that I had, and alike what I heard, he was insulting to me (when they were torturing me, only those tortures which inflicted on me in 2012, a few months before the U.S. Presidential Election)

Mehdi Karroubi

His intelligence sources were not as much powerful as Heidar Moslehi. They didn't like each other, and they were acting against each other!

THE 2013 U.S. PRESIDENTIAL ELECTION AND TRAVEL TO TURKEY

My mother called the main office of the related travel agency and asked them: Is my boy there? Is he alright? Later when I saw the staff of the tourism and travel agency then he told me “why you didn't call your mother for a while? She is so sad! You must call her! I have a phone here I will call her now!” I was so tired and confused because the storm of communications and because they had bothered me a lot! Nonetheless it's related to the day of the accident, after a few hours, when it was night, I was hearing that somebody was shouting “Shoot. Don't Shoot. Shoot. Don't Shoot. Shoot. Don't Shoot.” Then they sent electricity to my testes for a while. I didn't talk about it with my family, and I wasn't screaming of pain. Implying electricity on sperms can weaken them, but it doesn't kill them. Even when after many months I talked about it with my family, they didn't understand me. I don't know why a doctor tested my total sperm number!

Barack Obama hugged a child

There was a while that the Iranian leader had threatened the U.S. security and the CIA had decided to use a few Iranian people to find out what he decided to do (you would take a look at the Chapter 6, in the second paragraph where I wrote “they told me: Just I Rock”), I must note that it was a little bit before the 2013 U.S. Presidential Election, it was beneficial for President Obama that we stay in touch with each other, when somebody (with access to surveillance systems) was angry with him and because of this reason, the one who was angry with the president had decided to take a look inside my private life to find out more about some internal issues between me and Obama, the president could find him. He was strategically and politically responsible to let other ones to do what they had decided to do with me, but he couldn’t talk with them about our friendship relation (like what I wrote in this chapter some people decided to act against the president, now you can take a look at the page 5 and 6 of the Chapter 1, where I wrote “some American agents are doing covert-operations to cover their cooperators activities” and also take a look at the page 7, page 8, and page 9 to (a little) realize what was happening to me during this era; when lesser man suffered of lack of knowledge), if you imagine that a satellite was locked on me (and you don’t imagine that only one country has access to these kinds of technologies) then you can realize what happened to me.

Many politicians are trying to use people such as their own tools towards reaching their goals, engineer every societies as much as they can, but the U.S. President gave me lots of honors when the terrorisms made a nightmare in my life, the U.S. President has delivered hope to my life, he is a leader who when humans die then he really cries for a few days for them. Is this president like other ones or not?—I let you answer this question yourself—Near the Iranian-Turkish border, after Khoy, we could exchange our Rials/Tomans for Liras. That day I had real cash in my pocket, because the Iranian Regime could shut down the ATMs, and they could prevent me to withdraw money from cash machines, in Iran. They did it about me a few times before, many years ago. But now this decision caused them not to track my location successfully also. The regime didn't forbid me to leave the country. After these recent accidents happened to me (when I was talking with agents around the Globe, when I was communicating with an important figure, etc.) between our communications the CIA was telling “you are a good bad boy now” because this term, which the woman told, was a funny term for me, then it got memorized in my brain, and while I was under surveillance I remembered the term many times, in my mind.

PUBLIC DEMONSTRATIONS AND SOCIAL ENGINEERING

Slowly in addition to the IFRC, Human Rights Watch and Interpol, I increased my communications with other peoples and I gained more friends. Here I must introduce you some political tools. Since usage of electronic amplification devices, such as loudspeakers or bullhorns, may require permits for "amplified sound", usage of human microphone provides a way for people to address large gatherings without running afoul of such requirements. The human microphone was first used in the anti-nuclear protests in the United States and later in the 1999 Seattle WTO protests. This method of communication attracted attention due to its use by Occupy Wall Street. A human microphone, also known as the people's microphone, is a means for delivering a speech to a large group of people, wherein persons gathered around the speaker repeat what the speaker says, thus "amplifying" the voice of the speaker without the need for amplification equipment. The speaker begins by saying "mic check". When the people near the speaker respond "mic check", the speaker knows they have the group's attention. The speaker says a short phrase, part of a speech, and then pauses. Those that can hear what the speaker has said repeat the phrase in unison, and when finished, the speaker says another phrase, then pauses again waiting for a response, etc., until the speaker's speech is complete.⁹ A politician through applying his authorities on Mass Medias controls the public opinions; we call these activities propagandas. This Propaganda may happen against another country or against the citizens of the country where the political leader lives. It would get considered as a subgroup (or a complementary action) of Social Engineering that not only most of the leaders do it but also many private companies use this tool to reach their own goals. Maybe even many people die by their actions. And maybe even an organization in Afghanistan use these political tools against one of the Americans. Here I must mention that it's so strange for me that people are not aware of one of the very common habits of many organizations on them! Just imagine you make a call to the special force of your country in Europe, so they would track your location, the opponent forces would track your location also. Now imagine the special forces of your own country have some complaints with the White House and the current president, maybe they tell you that you talked with the president before, so the president is responsible about what happened to you. It's naturally a habit for your brain to imagine, the White House is aware of whatever happens around you, more than other minor departments and organizations, that's why you are writing for them! You know that they have authority to solve the problems of your society! They are so important for you, so your brain imagines that they are one of the very aware organizations! You just talked with the related officer about your complaints and your brain expects that you would receive an answer soon! Imagine that for example you did something wrong or for example a little bit you did something against their wills. So they like to bother you because what you did. But you would imagine that because the president has access to latest technologies so further complaints that may happen to you, are happening by the president! It would make your ideologies more biased when you think "making a call to that special force is the only selection for solving your problem". You thought that they are the responsible organization to solve your problem and they can solve your problem, isn't it?! So whether they help you or not, even if they make some complaints for you (by their own will), but you would think that they are doing whatever they can do, to help you! It would be much more worsen if the special force contacts you, and then an agent tells you that we understood that the president is still bothering you! Even maybe one of their agents contacts you, and acts in some ways to cause that you guess he is working for the president, while he is extracting some information from your mind, and it may cause several complaints for you! So your personal security must be a top priority.

Chapter 4

The guerrillas¹ must move amongst the people as

(Sun Tzu: The Art of War)

IN TURKEY, AND PHILIPPINES

I imagined when somebody travels to another country (except of its geographical location—as we don't consider that is it located in Asia or Europe) that countries' military forces protect him against eastern, western, or even against threats by the country which the citizen was born. I left my parents and my friends that I had gained in university. I passed Iranian-Turkish border. My problems continued. I have waste tens of thousands of dollars for travel to other countries—but even about satellite services, or being under torture, etc., sometimes and only sometimes even when you apply for being one of the refugees of the United Nations (UNHCR), even when you phone the related officers of the government, they won't protect you as much as it is necessary. Maybe you (or a third person) guess: the government do it to decrease the population of their foreigner citizens (immigrants), through increasing some gossips that will spread in that area about these kinds of problems, between public people; but when they do a same thing about you, as one of the individuals of their society, and then about the other individuals of their society also, so you yourself are the next one who similar situations and problems (like what happened to me) will happen to him—It was the first time that I traveled to Turkey. The bus driver took a taxi for the passengers then we went to a hotel. The hotel name was Ozilhan. And it was located in an area called Kızılay ['ki:zɫɔ:j], in Ankara. I went inside, and I put my bags inside my room. It wasn't late night. I was so tiered mentally because I was tortured recently. I decided to go out and then I search for a bar or I search for a dance club. I asked people about, is any bar there? “You must go to the city-center” they answered. I went forward; I asked a few guys that: “do you know any bar here?” They guided me about the direction. Before the Belgium embassy there was a club, near a bank which it name was “AK Bank”. I went inside. There were alcoholic drinks. A girl sat near me, and gave me a glass of Vodka, and asked me for several hundreds of dollars while music was playing loud. As I ran out of money I told her that my monies are in my hotel room. She told me, you go and bring me more monies. I was so tired and I had not lots of monies. So I decided not to return to the bar. I remember about one year later once I was so tiered and my feet were painful. I sat near the bar. There were some bookstores near me, also. I put my bag under my head to rest a little then one of these men who was working there, without knowing who I am, came and moved his hand towards me and said loudly “Chikkh”, it means “go away/turn away”. After I drank a few cups of Vodka, I came back to the hotel. I dropped myself on the bed, even I forgot to close the door, and then I fell asleep, suddenly. My room was at the first floor. Since I woke up, next day, I did my hair, and then I went downstairs, there were hot tea, Turkish coffee, boiled egg, bread slices, jam, and cheese on a long table (it was free breakfast for guests). Persian (Iranian) peoples were in the lobby (or restaurant) of the hotel.² An Iranian girl was in the lobby with her mother. Her mother had come to Turkey with her daughter because she had much stress, for maybe somebody bother her daughter. We talked with each other while we were serving breakfast. I came back to my room. I liked to drink something cold. I found a few beer cans and chocolate bars and mineral waters inside the refrigerator.

Me inside a park; Akköprü - ANKARA

I had lots of monies and lots of free times at first when I came to Turkey and I was usually consuming pizza and fried chicken! Turkish kebab (Döner) is one of the famous and tasty foods of Turkey. The price of foods in Turkey is something between 3 Turkish Liras (about 1.5$) to 20 Turkish Liras (about 10$) at restaurants. Except of wasting my monies for buying some fast foods, I also paid 60 dollars per night (about 120 Turkish Liras (Tele) per night) for my hotel room but then I rent a house. I paid about 200 dollars per month for my house. I could buy one pack of 500 gr spaghetti for 1.5 Turkish Liras. Best human rights defendants without pre-organized supports can't keep working on human rights for bad reactions of their society towards them. After a few days my issues were worsened so I made a call to the police of Turkey but they couldn't or didn't like to think about helping me (meanwhile some chaotic incidents happened that had some relations and connections with Canada, Germany, and France). And from another aspect of view, when the Turkish government killed four citizens (people who had participated in some demonstrations against their own government, in Turkey), some political activists and human rights defendants were asking people to sign a petition against these issues (they had made a temporary monument for them, and lighted some candles for the victims). I accidentally signed the petition. Perhaps it also worsened my problems (you already know that we can submit our names inside petition forms, and also you know security cameras are watching us in many locations). Because I couldn't find out more information in regard to my issues in Turkey so I personally prefer not to describe here much, about these events in Turkey. I'm mentioning these chaotic incidents (that happened to me after I made a call to police) partially, when I'm describing those events and accidents which happened to me while either at the moment and yet (today) I have not received any citizenship, I went to appropriated embassies and I asked them to give me a citizenship, or they give me a temporary visa. And I also went to the Russian Embassy to travel there, because I felt Russia is more secure than Turkey. It is located so far, in comparison to Turkey, from the Middle East—Turkey is a Eurasian country, most of its cities are located in the Middle East—and also Russia is more powerful than Turkey. During that moments the Great Britain was challenged because of what had happened to Bradley (Chelsea) Manning. Manning's mother had a nationality from the United Kingdom (Welsh). Bradley was a member of the U.S. Army before. However he was arrested on May 27, 2010. Manning was sentenced in August 2013 to 35 years' imprisonment, with the possibility of parole in the eighth year, and to be dishonorably discharged from the Army.

UNHCR Certification (My document of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugee - Turkey)

Some people are waiting for their immigration process to get solved by the organization, for more than four years - UNHCR, Cankaya, Ankara

People can taste a wide variety of tasty foods in Philippines. Chicken, pork, and spaghetti; lots of PIZZA HUT branches also exist in Philippines. I bought it once. I can still remember the old and brown bottles of its old tasty beers that people drank in the suburbs around Manila. They have party with their friends and families. They eat everything during party. Music plays loud! I saw, very poor people slept in streets. In addition to normal cars, some people also had something like a three wheel bicycle for transportation (and the air was filled with the smell of wet and damp shores).

The Manila is one of the main, and the capital city of Philippines. Just when I went out of the airport, taxi drivers asked me to introduce me with attractive areas of the city! I took a taxi! The taxi driver asked me "Where do you want to go?"; "I only want to go to my hotel" I answered. He insisted, we must go to a club! He brought me to a club. Some teenage girls were sat there, on the salon! There were lots of foods including seafood, baked partridges, white meat, and pork! Red Wine, White Wine and Vodka! Champagne is an old classic and red wines taste is something different because it causes a hot and warm feeling in your body! There were lots of prostitute women there! I went to the hotel after visiting the club! Its rooms were not so light! Guests could watch the television inside their rooms! I don't know what happened to the remote control of the television tomorrow, for it didn't work very well till the final day when I left this misery remote control inside the room, I took my bag, and then I went out from the hotel! There was a main department store in Manila. There were cloth stores, restaurants, fast foods, healthy foods, coconut juice, cantaloupe juice and mango juice inside!

Once I took a taxi and I left the city. The taxi driver brought me to a beach. I swam there, until the dusk! About the sunset, the color of the sky changed to a beautiful shade of red completely! Afterwards I went to the airport to come back to my hometown. Since a few weeks earlier I have missed my pipe with its premium and natural taste, light tobaccos, which was waiting for me inside our home, in addition to my heavy books and fish-oil (Omega-3) caps and B-complex caps and CoQ10 caps and Gincosan (a mixture of ginkgo biloba and ginseng) caps. Nonetheless for sure you are already aware that smoking tobaccos is one of the main causes of cancers nowadays, and it causes lungs cancer notably!

My political issues continued, and I was not so lucky to solve them. One year later, in Turkey, when I was receiving money from people to pay for the Internet—especially in Asti [ɑ:ʃti:] bus station. A bus station that most staffs of about six Internet cafes of the station were not such a literate, polite, and in fact a gentle human. And also there was a terrible old doorman of a mosque in the base floor of the station who didn't let people rest there even a little. Poor people could sleep on chairs. Men (even not women) were attacking each other or spitting on the floor—and I was trying to write for the United States about some security threats. I hadn't food to eat but I was successful about helping some agencies in our country such as the CIA to save their peoples healthy life and save their peoples security. Meanwhile because I had a bad financial situation, I went to another city of Turkey. Its name is Nide. A small town. The weather is cold there (it wasn't more than a few months that I was an official agent of America, but it was twelve years that I had cooperation with America), during that moment when for me it was about to get freeze as much as the weather was cold there, some Israeli cooperators was communicating and sharing their warm emotions with me. It was winter and the temperature of the weather in Nide (Niğde) was only a bit higher than the Moscow in Russia, where I also had been.

IN RUSSIA

In Russia lots of peoples don't know English. Usually snow covers the ground, and when I was there in spring, it was a plenty of snow there. They have a beautiful underground train (metro) station in Moscow, I have not seen something like this in the other countries where I have traveled before, because people go down underground so much to reach themselves to the Metro (the railway was so deep underground). But a satellite or a system alike this, still can track us! I can exactly remember the walls of one of the Moscow's main stations that were designed by colorful stained-glass works!

Moscow Metro Station

Moscow Metro Station

Once, in Turkey, I was in the road of Ankara-Istanbul that the public bus which I was one of its passengers went inside a tunnel (the tunnel was located inside a very tall mountain, where satellite connections were disconnected for a few seconds. Weather in Moscow is so cold, and their foods are different than ours. They make something like creamy confectioneries (like small pieces of cakes) and they place natural gelatin and also fish meat on this food; when I went to some supermarkets, there was big, beautiful and ripe fruits (apple, etc.)! When I saw these fruits, suddenly I guessed, they are (probably) genetically modified fruits; else they could not be that much colorful! Inside of the hotels, the drinking waters of Moscow were a bit greenish, and we could see that obviously when we poured water into bathtubs. It was so interesting for me that the citizens were so wealthy in comparison with the other countries where I had traveled. I went to Moscow legally, and nobody bothered me there.

A MESSAGE FROM SIS/MI6

The British Intelligence Service is one of the organizations that the officers who work there are very kind. I remember, when I was in Nide (Niğde) they informed me about a message.³

British Secret Intelligence Service message to me:

The weather of Great Britain will be so cold soon, and as much as the weather is cold in Turkey, you can see your breath in the mountain which you must stay to live. Look at (take care of) the starry sky. Blinking, there are stars of chaotic games there. But now the others taught you and now you are aware of that we are forced to keep the secrecy to maintain our security, I won't repeat this here once again. I prefer that you start to talk and say something about yourself!

Best Wishes ___ “YOU 2 – 4 Strategic Defense four star”

Since the Secret Intelligence Service of the United Kingdom (SIS/MI6) has found out that I am a bit Post-Traumatic Stress Disordered they are rarely communicating with me in comparison to any other country, not to make my brain's situation worsen even a little bit. In those days I could die because a high amount of the tortures, by exposing several kinds of radiations to my body. I don't care if I hadn't call the bloody company (first of all in my life time), later all of them wouldn't be able to challenge me to live. In those days I hadn't much money but I gave one of my coins to a poor woman that wore a scarf also and she had a daughter and they were asking for money from people. On the streets people could try their luck through buying game (lottery) cards and receive some monies if they were lucky (Turkish people called it Milli Piyango). Once I was not happy, and I also lost a few coins. I also dropped my small coins on the side of the street afterwards. Bad situation of people had made me so sad (and imagine sometimes I was exposed to torture also, sorely pain on my skin, on my muscles, on my neck, etc.). I came to the bus station again, I preferred to sleep, nevertheless I was responsible to answer to some governmental conversations (with different people, normal voices, or voices behind masks, behind digital auditory frequencies convertors and mixers). I couldn't sleep more than a few minutes during the night. I stood up. Just I saw a child was asking people for money. I reached myself to him. There were a few markets around the child. In Turkish I told him: Am I buy bread (a Turkish Simit) for you. However the child said he doesn't need it.

The Central Intelligence Agency is the first organization that I began cooperating with them. It was the CIA. And the SIS from the Great Britain helped me. I remember once the SIS said: I heard sometimes Iranians are kidding and they say if someone goes to America, 'what' America shall do, don't say it no more and look how they did your 'what'!

However I stopped studying mathematical science that its every hour shall support the knowledge and the way which people pass towards perfection. I hope, once upon a time, tomorrows, I will be back in university, meanwhile in America instead. Even if once I died, when the others stop to help me, this book is a great monument for other agents who want to read about secret and classified history (secret history and classified history are not exactly same) and about those spies who some of them died but they could not talk with you.

UNDER MULTIPLE CONVERSATIONS

Protestations and demonstrations against the government began in Turkey. Like what you read here, and also in the Chapter 3, the CIA and the Interpol were careful, not to let the others kill me. I talked about my situation and my actions slowly during those days; most of this was done via communications by the Internet. If someone had joined the other form of our communications (by satellites) but he had any relation with the persons who attacked me before. When sometimes our conversations were related to my issues, it was necessary that my friends get notified that I had some threatening complaints before, between our conversations they casually and repeatedly said "You are a good bad boy now", later during a good moment when we were only talking about those who had tortured me, they said "You are a good bad boy now". Nobody could either sue or arrest her (and at first I dedicated this book to her and to the agency), and the others got notified of my problems.

If you look at the motto of the Mossad (the Israeli Intelligence Service), this is what you going to see (selected from the holy Bible): "Where no counsel is, the people fall, but in the multitude of counselors there is safety."

If during the next century any other countries add any kind of further information about me in addition to my writings, I somehow accept their new information also.

CODED MESSAGE

It's possible that you receive a message from an organization but they give you another code to let you decipher what they wrote for you before. When an intelligence agency is communicating with you, sometimes they say something but they want to explain something more than what they said, for example if an agency told you "1 o'clock, in night..." they might want to guide you about a direction to one of the locations of (geographical) map, or maybe they like to do some covert operations about you.

Let's try it. You just received an email from army, they wrote: Inside the civil organization, kind people had a bad disastrous but hot and good celebration, the music was too loud, but something bad happened, we were hearing a lyric by the DJ, he was singing and telling "I love you". Inside new archives of our bar, several kinds of dirty and bad databases with dirty information by customers inside the public's computer caused that I couldn't find any DVD media about the recent assassins activities. We are all around you now. Hey dear Rose I ask you to be careful while you are going home.

Ten minutes later, the army has made a satellite contact with you, they were telling you: Yes I made you aware, I wrote for you what happened. You answer: Really! I was waiting to hear from you. The army says: Inside of agency then I gave you my message. You are nasty! All around badness! But after my DVD player, inside my room, there is a gift that I will give you after an awesome amazing all a scores.

Now you are reading their texts once again, you slowly whisper: what did they say? Did they say, inside of agency then I gave you my message. You are nasty! All around badness! But inside of the message that they gave me I saw the "bad" word lots of times!

Now look at what the army said via satellite communication. Now look at what the army wrote for you over an email message. Now try to decipher the message you yourself. Inside organization then I gave you my message. You are nasty! All around badness! I saw "a bad disastrous" "something bad happened" "some bad databases" "with dirty information". You see the words that they had written around bad, before and after it. I saw they said: after DVD player there is a gift what I will give you, after an amazing all a scores. But inside of the email of the army I see the "DVD" word again, after the "DVD Media" they wrote: "about the recent assassins' activities. We are all around you now. Hey dear Rose I ask you to be careful while you are going home." Here just you saw the words what started with "a". Now look at the answer. It must be something like: Inside of the agency a (bad) disastrous something happened some databases with information about assassins activities are (happening) all around! Dear (I) ask (you to) be careful.

AN IRANIAN AGENT TALKS ABOUT ILLEGAL ACTIVITIES OF THE REGIME

Like what you know, the Iranian Intelligence Service charged me with offenses, including calling the CIA and communicating information to foreigner agencies and aiding the enemy. Later they tracked my location, several times called me, and also talked with me inside the office. I was listening to their ideologies and I was respecting to their culture also. Later, someone (an Iranian agent who didn't tell me anything about his identities) shared several secret facts to me, about some activities of the regime, which were not getting considered as legal activities: One of the worst problems of our agents (Iranian agents) is that if we open our mouth to discuss about some issues then the government may kill us. We are working by minimum requirements. We have seen how our government drops citizens inside of the cars and transfers them to underground detention buildings. And after interrogation, they send them to the cells, where nobody could hear their voice! Then the government inflicts torture on them. We have seen how some leaders are gaining more money for themselves. And where peoples don't get notified, they drink alcohol, transfer and sell and use illegal drugs. We miss our Imam—They had let me get out of Iran and then I came in Turkey (because some personal issues, I didn't talk directly about a leader of Iran here nor did I talk about several kinds of nuclear advancements; and I hope it causes a better situation for me).

When I was living near my parents I had designed a mathematical image and I printed it on my shirt

I was in front of my books that I couldn't read all of them (while I wore my formal suit in Iran)

You see these allergies on the skin of my chest. In Turkey while I was waiting long to receive the U.S. Citizenship I became sick, I couldn't shave my facial hairs for a while also. I didn't declassified its reasons completely, not to lose my supports and my security

THE EAGLE POEM (LAST PART)

I can remember that I was reading some poems inside the university. I could drive fast inside the streets. In those days there was my pillow on my bed and I could hug it hard and it was so fantasy that I could press it so hard to my chest. Once in Iran I read a poem⁴ (the eagle, the poem) that was interesting for me, and it was written by one of the students of the Cambridge University:

Flapping his wings, he rose above the scene,
"Forgive me, friend, for being so keen.

Live long, eat well, and grow, if you wish,
On carrion and dead matter and putrid fish.

This delicious-looking fare I'd rather pass,
As I have passed to the animals the grass.

Death, immediate, in the firmament today,
Is worth a hundred lives enmeshed in decay."

He then rose into the air, gained altitude, on and on,
With the crow watching in amazement, there upon.

He reached his own abode, passed even that,
To the abode of light, where the firmament's at.

He became a point that had existed a while,
Then turned into a dot that was not servile.

I was looking to the Turkish people and I was telling to myself how easily they are passing away from me, and even they (people around the Globe) are not aware!

Notes

1. Guerrillas are some kind of combatants (such as armed civilians) those who operate as militias, (partisans that fight with their enemies while they have a minimum organizational communication with each other). Nowadays (after early civilizations) for example we especially use this name to mention those operators (civil combatants) who because they are disagree with the policies and actions of (the Soviets, before, and) the Allies' troops in Iraq, Afghanistan, etc. are fighting with them.
2. In addition, later, when I was writing this book one of the Iranian Christians, Mr. M. Kiani, told me that my (rental) house (in Turkey) is not only for me, it's for every brothers of mine who need a place to stay there. He asked me to stay in his own house for a while. I remember once upon a time after we ate dinner (that they had cooked), while he was so tired but he even asked me to let him to wash the dish and spoon which I had used. In Turkey Ms. Megan from Canada and Mr. Allister from Australia checked the grammatical structures of some pages of this work for me for free.

Chapter 5

The task of the leader is to get his people from where they are to where they have not been___Henry Kissinger

When someone contacts an agency or a corporation, the opponent possessions may bother him. But instead of that the one imagines he wouldn't receive any kind of support by the possessions, he shall keep continue to inform the possessions about these issues. Even inside communities, web forums, and Medias, the one may say something about a bad situation which he is dealing with. So the one creates and implies a force for a movement towards victory by possessions. But if you do something wrong, even through writing a normal article to criticize the government, then when you ask the possessions for help, they wouldn't help you. After the notes and notions of President Obama below, and then a concise description of a method for communications security¹, there is the description of a beautiful decision that some people made, they decided to sign a petition and ask the U.S. government to help me.

Last year on my birth day, when I heard the voice of Mr. President then I felt so happy. The old email address of the White House is a traditional contact system which is not recommended to anybody nowadays, because new contact form of the White House has many new features, but sometimes I was using the old email address again, alike what I was doing sometimes many years ago. Like many years ago, once again I received an automatic replay. At the moment I just remembered my communications that I had every day in Iran, for a long while, every morning, every noon or nights with the U.S. President, just as soon as I was confronted with this replay:

Message Notification - Dear Friend, Thank you for your message. On behalf of President Obama

But later, this time, when I heard his voice at the moment, Mr. President informed me that I received your email through the old email address once again. Hey go boy, do, he just gave you the honor!

PRESIDENT BARACK OBAMA'S DEDICATION (FULL TEXT)

I dedicate my best wishes for my friend Mr. Peiman Ghasemi who his struggle was for peace and humanity, conceived in freedom and liberty. This nation and the freedom we cherish can, and shall, prevail. I must note that the texts that I gave to my friend have been re-written by him. The planet is full of violation that the secret Illuminati have caused. I didn't take your home but I like to give you the House. When you succeed America succeeded. How much harder to do so for the giants of history "Isaac Newton" "Michael Jackson" and "Nelson Mandela", those whom moved a nation toward justice, and in the process moved billions around the world! Your desire to fight the system that imprisoned peoples.

Here in America, we believe in actions and we like to stop people from acting against logic when their mental system is depressed. When they think about something, we imagine for sure they will do that, so we make a plan to do something about them before they do something wrong, but a crying eye of a child can ruin these actions and plans! Our old friendship relations caused me to mention this. It's impossible, this person who has been a friend of mine for many years, who loves me that much, could have done something wrong! You love to help everybody and every country.

I remember after much study about the Iranian culture and while you were helping their civilians for some years, what nobody mentioned because of the amount of the other international works that you were involved in, it was a few months ago that you were insulting to yourself and to your own family, under torture for the activities that you conducted in order that people could increase their knowledge. Then after many of years of writing articles for the civil generation, one of the homeless and poor persons inside of a public terminal insulted you. It's not right for you to insult yourself and your family while the persecuting government of your homeland threatens to kill you for protecting me here against such threatening problems!

Our dear lieutenant, regarding what you will write in your book about American covert operations, I must note that we are aware! Today is your birthday. Your work about communication security, what you with the cooperation of the Central Intelligence Agency did to have some fun, the training and the testing of your abilities in cryptography and encryption, which for you was not such a serious project, all were very interesting for me. The other secret work of yours that you did, such as medically protecting the life of U.S. federal agents, was another perfect work. Happy birthday! And I must note to the audience, I can't sufficiently articulate to you all that I desire to say. And in addition, "here in the House" I ask you to allow me to also say when the President succeeds America succeeded. I remember you could not complete your university in Iran for it was necessary for you to get out of there quickly because of some of the political complaints. There is no difference whether "am I black, white or in between". There is no difference whether "are you from Iran or from Africa". I'm not black, I'm not white, and so what am I?! The first year of your studies in university was focused on mathematical logical systems. True or false causes a true relation, true and false causes a false relation. You studied the paradox of Bertrand Russell. While the other students were only reading about the paradox itself, and they were merely reading about his other works, but you studied what he did to stand against nuclear warfare! You were thinking about the differences between the mathematical meaning of " \wedge " sign, which means "and" in logical systems of mathematics and you compared it to the grammatical usage of "and". You were thinking that when people say "I did something good" and "my friend was not successful to do something good" one of these people (whether me or my friend) done it; "you've done it" and "he couldn't do it" so the job is done successfully. So you didn't lie but in logic ((true \wedge false)) causes a false relation. But you didn't imagine that it's only the audacity of hope what can solve it! But the crying eye of a child can ruin these actions and plans! Can you solve it? I do hope you return to your studies in university next year! It's this kind of hope that always attracted your emotions, and caused you to lose your concentration to your environmental situations! America is the country of immigrants so when we win, America wins!

I ask people to think about the important contents of this book, once again. When Iranian people celebrate Nowruz and grow seeds, we grow seeds inside the White House also. When you were so young, you were worked so hard at studying the English language and you had bought lots of books about the English language. You didn't read many of mathematical books completely but you read lots of English books and this proves how much you loved our culture! Without money and food, because of the cold weather your muscles were shaking during the night and as you wrote, of the many organizations you helped, "nobody helped you." But you wrote to the Central Intelligence Agency that "While I was receiving money from people, To Protect The U.S. Security, Even If I Died, I Died for Freedom" so you are one of the glowing symbols of mankind and humanity in history. When you did some investigative activities via the Internet then the geopolitical and physical situations of the location where you were living there, caused that they sue you. When you were a child, one of the teachers of paranormal science² in front of one of the small groups of the audience told you: "you have a bright future ahead of you!" The Holy Lord loves you. I need a quintessential self-made man. There is no justification for unreasonable inactions! You are clever so we needed your brain; we needed to make you succeed! War! It's what you see inside of the programs of a few "broadcasting corporations" that you mentioned it; industrial and technological transformations "while what they are doing is such an unimaginable war plan" for people! Whether we're through its movements for civil rights, women's rights, workers' rights or gay rights. We can choose to live in a world defined not by our differences, but by our common hopes. We can choose a world defined not by conflict, but by peace and justice and opportunity.

Yours Faithfully,

Barack Obama

HOW TO ENCRYPT YOUR MESSAGES, AND STAY SAFE AND SECURE (ONLINE COMMUNICATIONS SECURITY)

You are responsible for providing enough security for yourself and your organization. Just imagine that you are in Iran, you make a call to the CIA, and you give them some detailed information. During the next few days the Iranian Intelligence Service will arrest you. Imagine that you are in China and you send an email to the White House, the CIA or the US-Army; after a few minutes, several intelligence services of the opponent countries will find you. They can lock-on to you, by tracking systems. When enemies find you then they might torture you and extract information they need.

To stay safe and secure, never use your home computer for your online works. Is what I mentioned means never use your home computer for your suspicious online work operations? No, in fact when you connect your computer to the Internet then hackers can read your data files, text files, they can see your photos, and they can see you inside of your home through your webcam! That's why while some of my friends suggested "work operations" but I simply wrote "online works", whether it doesn't imply any specific work! There is only a little difference between a normal connection to the Internet and a secure connection, through using the SSL protocol, when the subject is espionage.³ So never search about top secrets inside of search engines. Don't write something unencrypted to the destination agency about some secrets of a country when you use their website contact form or when you use the services of an email provider. Transmission of top-secret information of a nation is one of the most riskful decisions that someone may get engaged in. If you get imprisoned there is no way to set yourself free. So the first mistake is the last one.

I've written for you a checklist about how to make a contact safely:

- 1) Turn off your mobile phone, and take the battery out, and then go to the place where you can get connected to the Internet (Internet cafe, etc.)
- 2) Hide your IP address. As an option, "Tor" is one of the free programs that will bounce your IP from each of its relays around the world. Basically, it's just a big database of proxies that you can access to keep your online identity safe. When you're using the Tor then the server computers would no longer be able to track information about the physical location of your IP, while intelligence agencies would have some delays to find your location.
- 3) Your destination agency must know you by a nick name; never use your real name when you give them information.
- 4) It's not good that you completely type the name of any country that you want to discuss about!

5) You never send anything secret while it's not encrypted.

There are a few ways to encrypt your texts. There is a program which can encrypt your communications. It's PGP (Pretty Good Privacy) or GPG4Win. You can download it from these websites:

When you use the Morse code prosigns then you, freely, can replace the prosigns with your own favorite words, for example instead of “..” you can type “for” etc., instead of “.-” you can type “zero” etc. and so on. So instead of .. .- you would write: “for zero”. The words which you used for ciphering must be known for both of you (the person at the destination who wants to decrypt the ciphered texts later, and you). For example you may like to write to the destination “Instead of every “...” I typed the name of your grandfather's favorite food” You may like to write this sentence a bit literary sophisticated (For example he has a tattoo on his hand with 3 big dots), you remind him a memo or an accident, you write for him “There is not only one shape on your hand. Accidentally, I saw the name of your grandfather's favorite thing in the business of math” you remind him the name of his grandfather's favorite food. For example the name of his grandfather's favorite food is lasagna, inside some part of your message he would see “for lasagna zero”, he will write “..-”, when he converts these Morse code prosigns it means “ISA”. If you don't notify him to replace the entire “for”(s) with “..”(s), and the entire “zero”(s) with “.-”(s) then he may write “....” because you mentioned “business of math” so since he has a tattoo on his hand with 3 big dots, he may try to replace the word “for” with four dots, etc. So you are responsible to give him firm and obvious notifications; abstractive notifications are useless.

With regard to the issue number 5, let me to describe you what I know a bit more advanced in details:

For an espionage agency even the PGP Public Key is not completely unbreakable. So you may prefer to encipher the Public Key before you send it to the destination, then it would become probably an impossible goal for the Internet fraud operatives to decipher the contents.

♣ An introduction on encrypted transmission of a PGP Public Key to destinations:

Transmission of highly sensitive and confidential information and data over the Internet, always was a major problem for those who want to protect their private information. It won't take a long time for an espionage agency to break the code of your ciphered texts. As the security of encrypted data is entirely dependent on two things: the strength of the cryptographic algorithm and the secrecy of the key,⁴ what do you think about we encrypt the PGP Public Key itself. Even, as an option, once again after encryption by PGP (or before encryption by PGP) you can encrypt the body of your message!

♣ Pretty Good Privacy (PGP):

If you send your Pretty Good Privacy (PGP) Private Key with your text message then at the moment the espionage agency may decipher the text, but the PGP has a solution for this problem. The PGP can make a Public Key for the destination (and a Private Key for the owner of the password and key) and then you may encrypt the message by the Public Key of the destination (you cannot encrypt it with your own key since the other one needs to decrypt and read your text message with his own key). When they receive your cipher encrypted message then they decrypt the cipher by their own Private Key and password. If you encrypt a Public Key of the Pretty Good Privacy (PGP) itself, before you send it (before you send the Public Key) to the target that would encrypt his/her words and characters with your key, then the deciphering process would need spending a long time for the espionage agency, or even it would be impossible to decipher the contents.

GnuPG/PGPi, can work over Command Prompt

Since your data are not invisible to intelligence agencies (Whether you use a normal protocol for connection to the server or not, for even Secure Socket Layer (SSL) over HTTP, that we call HTTPS, because some implicated advancements (the obvious and introductory example is proxy server) of the country of the user of the Internet network, and also since the data must pass the international Internet backbone), encryption would be an important issue to protect your private information. When you send your PGP Private Key with your text messages, an espionage agency may decipher your data. The PGP makes a Public Key for the destination, as a solution for this problem. When we make an intersection between the logic of the manual encryption/ciphering, in combination with an automatic encryption method through using a (at least) 128 bit key which is made by the PGP encryption algorithms, by this complex method, cipher decryption would be such an unachievable target.

6) Don't forget to clear the cookies of your web browser after you send your message to the destination.

7) You must leave your location as soon as possible. When you hide your IP you will have more time for leaving the location.

However there are many other factors which may affect the probability of 'getting tracked', maybe at first you open the website of the related intelligence agency and then you start to think about what you want to write for them, so you won't have enough time for leaving the location, maybe even they be successful to find where is the address of your home because you left your fingerprint on the mouse and the keyboard of the computer, etc. (I must note you, it's probably not the work which the President mentioned in the foreword, because it's a brief description and it's not including many other cryptographic potentials that the scientific communities are already aware of).

PETITION

You see inside the previous chapter (Chapter 4) I mentioned “In Turkey while I was waiting for a long time to receive a U.S. citizenship, I became seek...” it happened over a moment of time when more than a hundred people from all around the Globe began signing a petition for me and they decided to ask the U.S. government about ‘why they don’t help me?’. When I made them aware of my situation the amount of their signatures which they gave to support me, was so great! A petition directed to a government official, etc. in order to request them to do something. In the colloquial sense, a petition is a document addressed to some official and signed by numerous individuals. Many people from California, Washington, New York, Florida, Ohio, and the other states of the United States, many people from the United Kingdom, France, Germany, Portugal, Netherlands, Italy, Denmark, etc. signed my petition and more than four hundred people shared this petition in Facebook. While the departments of the government decided not to send any answer regarding to this decision and action of the citizens (that many American and British and also many other citizens from other parts of the Glob asked our government to help me, stop the related vulnerabilities, and facilitate my immigration issues that in those days even not one answer was replayed in regard to them), however it was one of the first public reactions which worked finally. And at least it was a successful movement. For it’s necessary that I give them⁴ some appreciation so I submitted their surname here, however I crossed their first name off the list:

About this Petition

Dear Sir

Mr. Peiman Ghasemi 'the cooperator with the US government' was a medic – Serial/Reference number: 87040112809-2 Submitted in the Esfahan Red Crescent Society.

After he submitted he's name at the UNHCR (The United Nations Refugee Agency), without any legal reason on the day of interview, the officers didn't let he go inside!

And the organization delayed his interview at UNHCR two times, It's so strange that the US foreign service of the Department of State doesn't save this human while the US embassy told him, because of he was submitted his name at UNHCR and he is a refugee now so the UNHCR must decide about 'he receive the US passport'!

UNHCR Case Number: 385-13C03723

Few weeks ago some people from America, Germany, Lebanon, United Kingdom, and other countries, signed a petition through internet to stand against his current terrible situation in Turkey - <http://www.thepetitionsite.com/301/477/450/save-mr-peiman-ghasemi/>

We ask you not to let the Turkish police and the UN Refugee Agency reject his case/profile and don't let that they send him back to Iran where the regime wants to kill him. He is not fine!

"We must always help each other, likewise what those very few people began a few month ago for helping me I ask you to keep signing here to ask them to respect to your will, and I hope once you receive a message including my appreciations and containing good news about what happened to me ___Peiman Ghasemi - Turkey"

Notes

1. There is one of the articles of mine, what at first I wrote on “Veteran Ventures” website (it was written in two separated articles - the website is closed now), about communications security and then I combined them at one completely new article, and then I published the new article on the veteranventures.org/author/peiman instead of the previous articles, however in last days of 2014 the executive administrator of this website informed its authors that the website would be shut down following the beginning of 2015. My profile on military.com/profile/member-profile-bio.html?member_id=33530522 is available for public). Meanwhile it’s necessary that I add the article to this book for the audience, those who want to work in politics but they want to reduce the probability of getting tracked, for those who don’t like to let anybody to identify them. So they like to keep themselves free of torture whether a torture from near distance or not! I also have liked to write an article about ‘satellite communications security and privacy’ there, but there was not enough time for me to do it yet. Remember you are always responsible for maintaining a required level of security for yourself.
2. Mr. A. Nakhland
3. Here I prefer to talk about security. And I don't like to talk about some easy, fast, and introductory ‘hacking tricks’ like creating fake pages, or using a fake mailer to change your email address to any other email address that you like, or network penetration, or different types of cyber-attack.

 Deport to Iran: Adana Yabanji Police (located in Afet Mah.) was responsible to asylum seekers. Officer Akay and his translator Ms. Ruya once told me if someone don't give us fingerprint for four consecutive weeks, the onewould cause some problems for its refugee status. As my refugee status got delayed by the UNHCR, once I didn't gave fingerprint for only three weeks (consecutively), two, three, or four times, at most. Ruya and Akay told me we will cancel your refugee status now. A new officer Erkan came in office. He told me, he would solve the issue but he with cooperation of several other officers including this officer (that usually had wore a formal blue shirt):

instead of solving my issue, tried to put me in detention. This officer is the one who finally brought me to the jail which was made up for detainees, from the office. The jail was made up just on the rear-left side of theirs office. The jail itself had kind officers. Detainees were not criminals, they were clever, kind, and good humans. Except of the first night of being in detention that felt it was alike a scenario for me and I was attacked by some prisoners, I had a good control over my environment there. I could write a new chapter about that. Many different events happened there. Prisoners, including: Ahmed, Omar, Abdullah, Suleiman, Mohammad, Abu-Ahmed, Shahin, Helmi, Yasser, Farogh, Tofigh, Rabie, Khaled, Aso, Bijo, Bilal, Mahmood, etc. had their own stories. Mahmood gave us some advisements about the situation of President Obama. Finally he tried to scape. He was muscular, meanwhile he was not older than 26 approximately. When in the 2nd floor he broke the windows' irons and jumped of the window to the ground, he broke his bones. He couldn't standup no more. Bijo and maybe two or three others ran. However Bijo was also arrested in the first minutes. Rabie and Abu-Ahmed stood near my room, Abu-Ahmed was a few steps behind Rabie. They was so nervous for the injured detainees. And I was talking with Mahmood (that was fatally injured) and with officers, from the first floor. As I informed the President that we are in Yabanji Police, several times Barack Obama had made contact with some of them and with me. They heard his voice and it made them happy. Operative officers caused a great delay in regard to our upcoming plans, and in regard to my refugee status. I had shared some communications about HIV, before they set me in detention. Only some other plans of mine such as interrupting the Gender-Natural Plan that would cause women to lose their military jobs, sit inside home and only maybe look for somethings private and special, etc. was fatally harmed. As I reached myself to an Internet café in Esfahan, I kept writing some letters and texts about the after-effects of this decision. I requested the U.S. Embassy to help detainees seriously. Over the Istanbul-Tehran flight, I officially requested the pilots to change its destination to somewhere western but not to its destination, Tehran. The passengers sat on their chairs happy and so kind. Some of them liked to help me much. Unfortunately, the airplane (Flight: KK65740—Nov 25, 2015) was landed in Tehran finally. Inside the airplane, remembering the latest events was giving me self-confidence to be able to speak alike a responsible agent. After arrival, my Iranian passport was took away from me, meanwhile I could pass the gate, and I left the airport, and I got confronted with a different situation. Along these incidents several introductory ideas of mine lead to: Discovering an unnatural made origin for the HIV that is related to several issues of World War, and is related to the Central Africa . Discovering the real identity of the matter which our universe made this up as one of the systems of particle, this discovery will prove meanwhile our universe is dying slowly, this matter and the existence of discrete "lives" is eternal and immortal, and the matter is getting increased. Discovering, exposure of charged particle beam on the brain of the humans leads to a painless death. Discovering, a probabilistic proof of the existence of extraterrestrial life. My thoughts of discovering an anti-exposure anti-noise structure, many years before, in Iran, then changed to an idea that in addition to fusion and fission another atomic potential is existed and I mentioned this whole discovery only inside the footnotes of one of my brief articles, and in fact it discovered during a moment when alone, in Turkey, at first I began writing an article about controlling planetary movements and displacement of Earth for preventing extinction of the entire existence of life because increments of solar irradiance.

Chapter 6

A fact is a simple statement that everyone believes. It is innocent, unless found guilty. A hypothesis is a novel suggestion that no one wants to believe. It is guilty, until found effective—Edward Teller (Conversations on the Dark Secrets of Physics, 1991)

RUSSIAN COMMUNICATIONS

Russian military advancements are a bit more complex and complicated in comparison with other countries, for example one of their agencies uses Aeroflot aerospace technology to extract the brain's pattern. By beginning of my activities I gained a little bit problems and complaints about this issue with them, but then I forgave them.

Security Service (of Russia) communicated with me (by such unwanted and forced communication methods), when (because some kind of relations and some kind of U.S. secret activities about Islamists) in those days I was getting biological torture to death (radiations can affect the humans' biological systems. I can remember that I had asked from some other people that is death painful?), but it was Russians who regarding to my questions told:

I forgave you, by calling the Central Intelligence Agency you caused lots of problems for yourself and you dropped yourself from the top to the floor by your head, but when you were a child you loved to go to America and you loved to be an astronaut, when you are dying—while it's not up to me—later think about what I told you now. But if you were alive later, then when children of the children of your children are living (a long time later), our homeland and maybe even your homeland may fall, but I let you stay alive, probably UK and France will have a much higher secure situation, even if we fall. However we consider you as a cooperator with one of the agencies of the oppositions, which we are not agree with—“BUT YOU DIVE”.

Then they (Russians) a bit increased their cooperation with Israeli government instead of mullahs but some of these mullahs issued terror of some people, such terror also happened to Ms. Saba Haftbaradaran (with regard to a military group). They shot a bullet at her chest, and dropped her on the ground to let her die! This person and many other peoples were some kind of refugees. Those people were living inside Ashraf Camp in Iraq.

Many years before of the accidents what I have written about them, inside of the Chapter 3, CIA women in Public Affairs (and maybe even women in the White House and the other related intelligence headquarters) when I imagined that it's so beautiful that I reach myself to the U.S. Army in Iraq, when I was so young, told me: "Just I Rock." They tried to accept me to work as an agent. It's interesting that I tell you, it was not a long time that I had watched the Mission Impossible the movie. In the movie I saw a woman inserted a virus to her body to transfer it to another place. Who cares about what happened to me? What about stoning the civil women? Who cares! etc. (even I don't have a wise family).

Alike what I remember, it was exactly when I was adding (liking) Christians webpages in Facebook that one of the Iranian Christians who had not enough knowledge about politics, but always he liked to talk about politics with his friends (political activities or massive political discussions were not such a habit for most of the Iranian Christians who I had talked with them before, but Muslims—he was divorced from Islam) and he liked politics, could see me in an Internet café. He recommended me to go to one of the churches where he went when he was free on Sundays. The name of the Church is IPCA. If you take a bus from Kizilay, a bus which its destination is Chidem (Çiğdem) then it would pass the church. One of its famous staff's name is Mr. Armen (currently) since when I'm living in Turkey.

Once during night I was reading the holy Bible, I prayed and I asked my Lord to help me to achieve my goals and reach the victory; and several months later (following to around 11 years of cooperation) the CIA and President Obama accepted me and they gave me honor (I was in Turkey).

It's related to when I was under torture by several kinds of classified methods of torture (currently I only want to remind you the moments that I described partially in the "Chapter 4"). Moreover, I already haven't quote and I haven't mean that one of the most powerful countries of our planet decided to set me free (ever), or were some tortures inflicted on me because internal complaints or not? And it was only a few months after the moment when the CIA told me, they were submitted my identities to give me an E-5 Medal of Honor later officially. When the CIA decided to register my name to give me the medal, in Turkey (meanwhile I was not in America to receive it physically) they told me: "Pick", they tried to find out what may happen if I work for them. Later they accepted me officially but only through a conversation. Afterwards they accepted me as a secret agent, they told me we caused lots of problems for you, we would hire you and we going to strengthen you. That's why I dedicated this book to this elder agent—either we know this or not, at all—she saved me. I also like to briefly mention that a beneficially change in the history of the wireless communications which scientists reached in the 21st century is relating to applying some kind of mechanics in physics (instead of the past harmful secret and direct electrical technology) to reach the ability of transmitting voice near ears, which decreased the rate of cancers, and it also caused that spies be able to hide their real identities more easily, for those who learned how to use this recent technology.

When Americans voted to Barack Obama they elected a president who likes to listen to every kind of ideologies, who is against violations. He is black and he is tired of racial acts. He knows many languages (and even moderately he knows Persian and several other languages which are not considered as general and famous languages). His vice-president Joe Biden knows many languages, and he talks very fluently, and he is so kind. And there is no difference for him about, what is your race and nationality, what is your skin's color, etc. Hillary Clinton is so kind and also she is a woman who respects to peace and she doesn't like violations. Currently amazing politicians are in the office.

A FEW PARTS OF THE SECRET HISTORY FROM THE 2005 TO 2014

Microsoft decided to give some networking facilities to Iran, meanwhile they also preferred to describe to the Iranian civil people that the government of their own country wants to decrease their freedom of access to the Internet. They also tried to brighten the public opinions about the Iranian regime's money works with some other countries. Some poor African children received free laptops as a gift from Mr. Bill Gates and the Microsoft to use them for their studies! Because Bill Gates is one of the genius brains of the United States so habitually financial companies and industries of the United States may respect him but for a few times I heard that some of them like to make a chaotic situation for him, and weaken his authorities during these recent years.

The Red Cross, the Red Crescent and the IFRC decided to increase their support for maintaining a better security for Asian peoples, for betterment of their political situation, and so on, for a while. Later they made a balance, after a few years. [2012]

US actions against Bradley Manning (now known as Chelsea Manning) and Mr. Julian Assange caused the Great Britain to decrease its diplomatic support about America a bit (I still like to answer people about what they can't see inside the news, however I gave them a concise description, here, in this work. Except of these many years of cooperation with the federal government, I even have a good habit about investigation and about reading and reviewing some rare information). It was 4 days before the moment that Manning gets somehow isolated and gets questioned for 3 days, ended by his arrestment—these people were some kind of whistleblowers, also known as investigative journalisms. Manning was an army member. To give you an example about how I was reviewing information when I was young, I must mention that even I was looking at and I was considering the times and the hours of the happenings of every incidents—on May 21, 2010 at 1:41 PM that he/she (the trans woman—Chelsea Manning) was chatting with her friend, on 2:05 PM while she was communicating about some leakages of classified information, she exactly wrote: I'm a source, not quite a volunteer... I mean, I'm a high profile source... and I've developed a relationship with Assange... but I don't know much more than what he tells me, which is very little... it took me four months to confirm that the person I was communicating was in fact Assange (And these texts were parts of what she was chatting with her friend, a computer threat analyst—that their latest conversation time, as cited formally, is May 25, 2010). [2005-2014]

GOP—Government Shut Down

The U.S. Government shared some intelligence to have warned the federal agents about the after-effects of the governmental shutdown. National departments shall keep performing their regular services to people. The agents must be careful about any anarchical activities, they must be careful not to let poor families act against the security of each other in violated locations and areas of their towns. The federal government asked the agents to be so serious about the U.S. import and export plans and the U.S. economy.

Inside the email of the White House you see:

Hey everyone --

It's not exactly a secret that Washington hasn't worked as well as it should. Between the constant gridlock and partisanship, most people just tune this town out. That was especially true this year when the government literally shut down.

Yet, even in spite of all that, thanks to the grit of the American people, this country continues to move forward. After the worst financial crisis since the Great Depression, folks are getting back to work and the economy is getting stronger.

And late this year, Washington took a cue -- and managed to make some progress itself.

While it's too early to declare a new era of bipartisanship, what we've seen recently is that Washington is capable of getting things done when it wants to. And there's an opportunity next year for this town to do its job and make real progress.

Here are just a couple areas where there's been progress made recently -- check them out, and then take a look at our full 2013 year-in-review.

For the first time in years, both parties in Congress came together and passed a budget. This budget doesn't include everything that everyone wanted -- but our economy will grow a little faster, be a little fairer for middle-class families, and create more jobs because of it.

Our businesses created 2 million jobs in 2013. That's more than 8 million private-sector jobs in just over 45 months.

The economy is growing. Just last week we learned that, over the summer, our economy grew at 4.1% -- its strongest pace in almost two years.

We've cut the deficit in half since 2009. That's four years of the fastest deficit reduction since the end of World War II -- and it means we're improving our nation's long-term fiscal position while strengthening our economy.

We produce more oil in the U.S. than we import from abroad. Thanks to an all-of-the-above strategy, we're reducing our reliance on foreign oil -- and that means lower energy costs for consumers.

The American auto industry is thriving. Last month, the auto industry added more than fifteen thousand jobs. And just a few weeks ago, the United States sold its final stake in General Motors.

Americans are getting better health coverage. Since October 1st, more than 1 million Americans have selected new health insurance plans through the federal and state marketplaces. And millions more are getting better health care thanks to increased protections and benefits.

There's a little less gridlock in Congress. Leaders in Congress took action so that executive and judicial nominees (except to the Supreme Court) can be confirmed with a simple majority vote. Now we're filling critical vacancies, and the government will work better for Americans because of it.

So while the politics in Washington can be frustrating and change takes time, that's no excuse for inaction. In the New Year, we need to help American businesses continue creating jobs, make sure Americans are ready for those jobs, and make sure those jobs offer the wages and benefits that give families a fair shot at financial security.

We also need to look out for those who are searching for a job. Congress needs to extend unemployment insurance, something we'll be making a priority when members come back to work.

There's a lot of unfinished business, but there are also things we can build on. If you saw some things in this list that you think more people should know about, then pass them on.

Thanks, and happy holidays.

President Obama Explains the Shutdown:

Yesterday, eight days into the Republican government shutdown, President Obama spoke from the White House about the need for Republicans in Congress to stop threatening another recession just to sabotage Obamacare, stop demanding ransom just for doing their jobs, and just vote to reopen the government. He talked about the toll this shutdown is already taking on our country and the economy, and warned against the dire consequences of a default if Congress doesn't act to prevent an economic shutdown.

Keeping the government running and paying the nation's bills aren't bargaining chips or a matter of negotiation – they're a fundamental part of Congress's job. Here's how the President put it yesterday:

"If you're in negotiations around buying somebody's house, you don't get to say, 'Well, let's talk about the price I'm going to pay, and if you don't give the price then I'm going to burn down your house.' That's not how negotiations work.... In the same way, members of Congress -- and the House Republicans in particular -- don't get to demand ransom in exchange for doing their jobs. And two of their very basic jobs are passing a budget and making sure that America is paying its bills."

As the President has made clear -- and the press has reported -- the government could be reopened, today, with the votes of reasonable Republicans and Democrats if Tea Party Republicans would allow a simple yes-or-no vote on a Senate-passed compromise bill to fund the United States government. It's time for Congress to just vote and end this government shutdown now. [The last month of the 2013 until the first month of the 2014]

HRW (Human Rights Watch) personals decided to increase their support of weak people (girls who like to go to school, in Islamic countries where terrorisms don't let them to do it; black girls; etc.) instead of supporting one especial country and instead of using their budgets only for standing against dictator regimes. I was playing my rules also. HRW and I were sending several messages to each other about some topics and issues like "increments of violations at every side of the Earth". [2005-2014]

One of the most powerful brainwashing propagandas by the regime has made up against the supporters of the Iranian Green Revolution (It's not a good moment for describing these actions but now I can note that these propagandas even affected the mindsets of the CIA and HRW). [2007-2009]

Because several kinds of radical activities of other political leaders of Iran, Hashemi Rafsanjani decreased his supports of the regime but it also caused decrement of his power in Iran. He decided to submit his name as one of the candidates to go for Iranian presidential election (in the 2013 once again, for the third time, following 2 consecutive times of victory for holding the office successfully before) but political powers didn't let him. He could lose his power seriously after he was not elected. Through brightening public opinions, he didn't completely lose his power. [2009-2014]

Sometimes I had several conversations with the famous journalism John Pilger (even once on his Facebook page he gave a comment and told me "dickhead"). In those days even on my Facebook I merged and shared a picture of a Palestinian child and a picture of an Israeli child, which I had found in some websites. [2013-2014]

In the last seasons of 2013 I participated in nulling some terror plans to save the life of the U.S. President (Barack Obama).

I gave two schemes/plans about how scientists can make a better electromagnetic shield (Partially known as Faraday Cage) to maintain natural oxygen for the personals who work inside it (using Black Body), and later I hope to describe you more about it (Additionally, not such as a serious idea at all, about improvement of the civil peoples life, on those days I also was thinking about once scientists may do something strange and probably make something alike a shield against militarized space, in our sky). What I mentioned about Black Body, above, is not related to what I mentioned once upon a time inside a video clip about these kinds of technologies, when I was mentally depressed and also I was not aware of some realities, before the publication of this work!

Black Body

I gave a scheme/plan about how scientists may find some valuable materials (like gold, etc.) in other planets, by Electromagnetic Spectroscopy, (before publication of the current work I read on the Internet that a professor did some kind of researches about it. So in the current edition of my book I finally mentioned the Planet word, and I wrote "...find some valuable materials (like gold, etc.) in other planets" (in the previous texts, because that was classified information, I had written "...find some valuable materials (like gold, etc.) in the other pla___, using Electromagnetic Spectroscopy"). Meanwhile, right now, while I'm suffering of the cold weather of Turkey I like to discuss about this theory a little bit. When lights from other planets and stars get focused on a physical or digital platform (screen, input sensor, etc.) because every element has a unique wave length (here let me simply say it's a light (one or a few wave lengths/an emission of a wave or emissions of waves) which by passing a spectroscope gets separated to several natural colors, the emission spectrum is predefined for each element of the periodic table, and it is different for each element) and by analyzing this emission spectrum (Color spectra of various chemical elements) we can search for valuable elements and materials. I don't have a calm environmental situation to think about these theories. Meanwhile some professors began working on them but I think these introductory theories are not such a very important project to waste lots of your times to think about them. (However I must note you, after this work I wrote a few articles briefly, including, controlling planetary movements for preventing extinction of the entire existence of life on Earth; finishing the process of life with no pain; etc.)

U.S. PLANS FOR THE FUTURE OF THE GLOBE, WHICH SHALL BE ACHIEVABLE UNTIL 2050

Increment of women security, and also a challenged way towards woman power and especially women freedom.

Increasing the knowledge of peoples, step by step, about secret communication devices and harassment technologies to decrease several threats that U.S. enemies may cause, to prohibit several propagandas against these technologies about the other countries who already have access to these kinds of technologies.

Helping Israel to expand their borders more, in comparison with other countries. But also an increment about U.S. cooperation with Islamic countries is sensible, and U.S. would make a better diplomacy about them, before they keep going on for other selections.

Some governors of dictatorial regimes in next decades (before of 2050) will change and hopefully their people may have a different situation.

A higher percentage of people who are living inside the United States illegally, would receive U.S. Citizenship, and by this method (and the tax paying complementary system) we going to increase U.S. budgets also.

Some research departments would make several kinds of modern anti HIV drugs available for people soon or late.

Companies would distribute enhanced 3D Television with a better quality for peoples (Even these TVs are planned to be replaced by something new with another new name that they will choose for new systems by concentration on the needs of markets). Probably and only probably vertical flight industry would increase its business about small airplanes and for individual customers. People who have physical limits, such as those who are blind, would have more fun by some kind of recent remote communications and auditory technologies.

US will keep searching for new planets in far space, where probably alive creatures exist there. In Europa, one of the moons of the Jupiter, alike what we are sure about, there is not any alive animal, but while we are not certainly sure, probably there could be several kinds of microscopic creatures or maybe not, however scientists are not yet sure about that!

The most obvious and basic mathematical equalities and theorems most get approved by a mathematical proof and only by mathematical inductions alike what I was doing inside of the university to approve the left-sided limit and the right-sided limits by the Epsilon sign, a strange method which had made the other students of the university nervous, and it's easy method of playing with equations had caused that they ask me what am I doing?

While there are lots of other funny and fundamental and important methods available for you, but it's one of the very easy methods while the others think they know an easier way, and this method makes them nervous! When we imagine the Epsilon means an infinitely small value (like 0.000001), while x approaches very close to a number (It's true about the Delta sign also, but the Delta sign is about y, not x).

The right-sided limit can be rigorously defined as:

$$\forall \varepsilon > 0 \exists \delta > 0 \forall x \in I (0 < x - a < \delta \Rightarrow |f(x) - L| < \varepsilon)$$

Similarly, the left-sided limit can be rigorously defined as:

$$\forall \varepsilon > 0 \exists \delta > 0 \forall x \in I (0 < a - x < \delta \Rightarrow |f(x) - L| < \varepsilon)$$

Then about the right-sided limit:

$$\lim_{x \rightarrow a^+} f(x) = \lim_{x \rightarrow a + \varepsilon} f(x) = (\pm)_L + (\pm)\delta$$

Similarly, about the left sided-limit:

$$\lim_{x \rightarrow a^-} f(x) = \lim_{x \rightarrow a - \varepsilon} f(x) = (\pm)_L + (\pm)\delta$$

So, for example:

$$\lim_{x \rightarrow 1^+} \frac{1}{x-1} = \frac{+1}{(1 + (+\varepsilon)) - 1} = \frac{+1}{+\varepsilon + \cancel{(1-1)}} = \frac{+1}{[0] + \varepsilon} = \frac{+1}{+\varepsilon} \xrightarrow{(+)\times(+)} \frac{+1}{1 \div 0} \rightarrow +\infty = \lim_{x \rightarrow 1^+} \frac{1}{x-1}$$

I only mean that I like to play with equations. Don't forget that it's a very easy method, and I did nothing special to solve these problems, and don't forget that at the moment I could only finish the first year of the university, and I'm waiting for the U.S. decisions! And the normal students of the normal universities in my country even couldn't make a normal conversation in English. But I wrote this book alone (and many times inside streets, even when I couldn't find a place to sit and I was on my feet, I was typing by a laptop) in English! Except of using the Epsilons to find out "does the limit have any correct answer?", but I was even using the Epsilons to find out what is (the value of) the correct answer of that equation—There were some mathematical scientists who were ignored by people of the century. One of these mathematicians was working in game theory (of mathematical science) which has close connections with one of the new sciences "Thinking Strategically", it has several connections to mathematical logics (and so to the computer science also) that I know good, sometimes he was working for the U.S. government on code breaking, etc. so now it would be respecting that I mention his works.

While knowledge of peoples in Islamic countries are getting increased (while they won't reach a top level of advisement over an imaginative stable imperialized era of the planet's timeline, which the people of the western countries reached today), we would have several kinds of after-effects alike what WikiLeaks did (to leak some classified information for civilians). Or, moreover, even we would have several kinds of after-effects alike what violated Islamists and terrorisms are doing against our homeland's security (because of their brain's pattern during the development of itself and the society, begins to look at issues and problems of the superpower countries (and not the other countries), because they are relatively the poor societies but those other countries are rich and technological).

We would observe several changes and reforms about the well-known terrorism groups which exist yet.

Continuing my educations, improving U.S. international diplomacy, and seeing my family members such as my mother, etc. once upon a time, is what I hope! However thanks to all of the personals in America those who work hard to increase the humanity and security and freedom.

Soon the Department of Defense must protect my life and with the Central Intelligence Agency shall protect me in America, and I also hope that I receive an answer by the Department of State about the signatures of more than a hundred people for my immigration, so if any problem happened to me while they (governmental organizations) are aware of my life threatening complaints until the last minutes of my life wherever I am, they are responsible. They are responsible until the related problems get solved, and my U.S. immigration hierarchical and formal actions get done, here in Turkey. I'm just convinced that my visa proposal is rejected again. I slept for nights inside a street. I slept inside of the Ashti (Aşti) terminal for a while also. It's so cold!

I recommend you to read the acknowledgment of this book for sure once again and then you look at the headnote of Bill Gates at the introduction of this work, to summarize what you already learned, and also I shall mention: during writing these texts, the IFRC have guided me to add a few beautiful parts of my life to this book. The virtual general supports of the IFRC and Interpol were so affectionate (Alone it only took a few weeks of my life that I wrote and a little bit edited the first texts of this work, but completion of the current work took much longer) but they helped me a lot to dedicate it to the generations, fortunately (while I'm only about 27 years old, and I'm young) but my body can tolerate bad situations good, but if it was somebody else who had contacted those kinds of political organizations that I contacted once, then he could not keep himself alive and so shares these amounts of information with you.

Final Words

Once upon a time, inside of the authors' forum of the KDP department of the Amazon website, I had some interviews with tens of other famous authors. Professor Mike (Michael) Williams (at the Trinity College, Dublin), compared me with Kim Philby and he mentioned “Bring back Kim Philby, all is forgiven”. I had a review (about the last edition of my work, after publication) by Tony R. Parsons, the award-winning journalist: “I have been in some horrible situations in my lifetime, but I can only fathom what you have done/endured. A very awesome book cover, great font & writing style. A fairly well written Covert operations, Espionage (Clandestine) book.”

Isn't it so strange that I wrote this great book only over a few weeks, and only by a laptop?! A laptop that my friend had bought it for himself! And Mr. President knew I could do it without any support by the others! Then during a few months I edited this work for the second and the third time! You, who read this book completely, are so lucky because of it would take several years until the other people find out what I did and they also find out what is happening around them and what will happen to them!

What remained untold during my cooperation with the U.S. President? What we told to each other, word by word and term by term! It remained untold because the people who are living during the current century didn't support me yet. President is so kind with people and he liked to mention (about me myself), while I haven't find a good job for myself, I got tortured, and I was not famous and nobody could hear my name and what I did, but he gave a foreword for my book to increase the number of the audiences of my book. I have affected his advisements on his international policy and decision making, the advisements what he received from the public Internet cafes; and he is unimaginably so kind with me and other peoples!

I also couldn't talk about what Israelis and Iranian's president did during the 2013 U.S. Presidential Election!

Dealing with, and working for the CIA, and a habit of normal persons of some societies to be ignorant, is one of the causes that I felt I'm responsible for keeping the confidentiality (and even about those accidents which were inflicted on me). The confidentiality what I got tortured for submitting that for civil people, for some years! I also liked to start the first chapter of the book with describing some political crimes against humanity but normal people would lose their interest to continue to read the entire chapter. So alike what many other authors have begun their works with, I mentioned a number of events (about professors who did several kinds of well referenced researches). And I also mentioned (several times, some sentences alike the following sentence) that there was a boy inside of a creaky house, then I referred them to myself, instead of writing that I was a boy inside of the house of my parents! However I did whatever I could (such as this strategy) to increase the number of the people who would read this work!

When the next generations are aware of some secret technologies related to the radomes and the Faraday's laws of physics, then there is a question, a question that they like to ask me regarding that meanwhile I started to have cooperated with the U.S. government, a powerful country which has lots of capabilities, so why "infliction of torture on me"?! Those who later you would be aware of them, liked that I fear a lot! But is sending harmful and painful rays to the critical parts of my body acceptable?! However it's what a government can do a few times and it can let the other governments do lots of times also, but without thinking about its effects on the body of the people! However I believe in bests, and I think if there is something bad but we can change it to good!

The submitted texts and contents in the page 7, page 8, page 9, and page xxviii are including very rare information that after many years of communication with many important governmental departments and also enterprises, I described to you very concisely and for the first time in history I submitted them inside a book. Moreover, no one talked about infliction of high frequency waves on the people's brain, I could describe and write about them many pages, meanwhile no one inside a formal governmental document for the public talked about them yet. Researchers (non-governmental documentary producers) can use these descriptions as a base and foundation for their documentaries.

Bill Gates mentioned: He hopes that I had described something more about what happened during the latest presidential election (that supporters of tough ideas made me departed of my family), mass media didn't make a very good job to cover my activities to transfer an abstract of them to people. And he mentioned that I was too young, I was living near my mother, I was a medic, why max-pain happened to me but no one else?!

Through some communications, some governmental departments had mentioned that writing this book won't cause that they bother me but my problems continued! However I hope that I've done a good job!
