

in a previous paper called uniform field theory we have shown what happened to masses in space now its time to show how the masses interact with each other without the notion of spacetime now its all about electromagnetic waves electromagnetic waves produced by all masses push existing electromagnetic waves in space and so the mass moves in space because electromagnetic waves has a charge