

how does a photon act as a wave imagine a mass and part of that mass is with some space inside it and then the space goes inside the mass volume round and round that is how an electromagnetic wave act