1- The Numbers have an end: Scientific truth.

The Numbers have no end just a myth.

7- Water contains helium + non-condensed oxygen.

This depends on the physics of the theory of Numbers have an end:
If you do this experiment, you will discover that the ball in its swing will depend on three periods of time, and speed but there can be no acceleration:
The first is the beginning of the motion.
Second: the field of swing.
Third: return to normal, which is stillness.

Whatever human tries to think about how to deny the theory of Numbers have an end, he will find his thinking confined to the vortex of time, space and existence.

-Mohamed Ababou-

- The universe is conical;
- The past is negative Numbers;
- Now is the end of past time ... and now is a new beginning of time;
- The Numbers have an end dependent mainly on time in terms of place and the basis of existence.
