

Atlantis in mirrors

by leon elshout, almelo, roodgoudvanparvaim.nl, www.flipsnack.com/roodgoudvanparvaim, aurichalcum2018 (at) protonmail.com, 14 april, 2020

Was Atlantis mirrored in time and space? In 1 Corinthians 13:12 we read that we see everything mirrored. This was a reference to Numbers 12:8 in which the prophet spoke in riddles.

Could it be that Plato's Atlantis riddle was also mirrored into an island that was fictively located off the coast of Gibraltar? Did Atlantis exist in an opposite direction and in a near future of the Armageddon? The answer is probably "yes".

How could Plato do this? The only logical answer is that the mysterious Python Spirit in Acts 16:16 had deceived him. This Python Spirit was a clone of Poseidon and was marked on the head of the Sphinx in Gizeh, who was named Baal Tsaphon in Exodus 14:1-2.

Atlantis was not located in a literal sea but she sat only in a theological sense in the middle of all the world seas as we read in Revelation 17:1-5 about Endtimes rebuilt Babylon. Talking about mirrors we should expect a counterfeit Atlantis, apart from Babylon. What else could it be than Jerusalem. So both Endtimes Jerusalem and Babylon were inverted by the Python Spirit into an island Atlantis that was situated in the western horizon.

In a broader concept there were the four dimensions of Tsaphon, since Babylon was both the northern and eastern dimension of tsaphon. The hostile armies of Babylon invaded Jerusalem from the north. They could not invade Jerusalem straight through the desert from the east. The southern dimension should be the sphinx.